The Death of Von Moltke.

LONDON, October 5.—The Telegraph this morning has a number of dispatches relating to the rumored death of General Von Moltke. The editor in his comments expresses the opinion that the lead coffin which passed through Chalons and Toul contained the remains of the great Prussian General.

Rumors are spreading throughout the city that General Von Moltke had been killed in battle, and are now generally credited.

King William Will Not Return to Berlin Till the War is Ended—Russia and England Paving the Way to an Armistice—Disposition of Captured Territory.

Special to the Herald.]

LONDON, October 5.—A large number of citizens of Berlin have petitioned the King not to expose himself during the siege of Paris. He replies by stating that he will not return to Berlin till the war is ended.

Couriers are daily passing between London, St. Petersburg and the Prussian headquarters with dispatches. It is believed England and Russia is paving the way to an armistice.

It is reported that both the Mecklenburgs will be incorporated into Prussia the Grand Dukes to have Alsace and Lorraine eceded them in compensation.

No Manifesto Will be Published by Napoleon.

LONDON, October 5.—The Herald's Berlin correspondent telegraphs to-day that he has just received a written reply from Pietri, Private Secretary to Napoleon, who says that no manifesto will be published by the Emperor, and all rumors to that effect are groundless.

Private Correspondence of Napoleon Published.

Dispatches from Tours to Monday last say that the papers publish liberal extracts of the private correspondence of Napoleon. One of the documents in the handwriting of the Emperor, naming a regency in case of his death, entrusts the Emperor during his minority, the present Prince Imperial, to the care of Gen. Frossard. A decree dated Rheims, August 21, signed by the Emperor, appoints MacMahon commander-in-chief of the army of Chalons and Paris. A letter from the Emperor to MacMahon, and a proclamation prepared to be issued by the latter, show that the plan was to fall back to the walls of Paris, leaving Bazaine at Metz. The proclamation says that the fortifications of Paris will stop the flood of the enemy and give time to organize the forces of the country. This plan was afterwards abandoned, and an attempt made to relieve Bazaine. A letter from Persigny to the Emperor, bearing no date and postmarked Strasburg, which reached Paris December 7th, 1866, says, "As you are about to communicate several broad truths to the illustrious personages surrounding you, you can add the following: Whilst we are pompously and tediously deliberating as to what should be done to obtain an army, Prussia proposes simply and with great activity to invade our territory. She will be in position to place in line six hundred thousand men and twelve hundred cannon before we have thought of organizing a framework, which is indispensable before we can place in the field three hundred thousand men and sixteen hundred cannon. Blindness alone can permit a doubt that war will break out at an early date. I draw your attention to the following because it is of a nature to open the eyes of the least clear sighted: For some time past the Prussian agents have been running over the frontier departments, particularly the portions comprised between the Moselle and the Vosges, to sound the opinions of the population and bring influence to bear upon the Protestants, who are numerous in those parts, and much less French than is generally believed. They are grandsons of the men of 1815, and have sent deputations to the headquarters of the enemy to ask that Alsace be taken over by Germany. It is well to note these facts, for they may reasonably be considered as throwing light upon the enemy's plans. The Prussians adopted the same course three months before the opening of the Austrian war in Bohemia and Silesia."

Protest Against the Continuance of the War.

LONDON, October 5.—The Manchester Examiner has an aerial message from Paris stating that at a meeting of the Council of Ministers on the 29th of September Jules Favre and M. Arago protested against the continuance of the war without consultation with the people, and Keratry, Trochu and Rochefort dissented.

The Defense of Bitsche

Has been thus far successful. The Prussians have planted the cannon captured at Strasburg around Metz.

Doing Good Service.

The latest reports from Epernay are that the National Guard and Garde Mobile are doing good service at bush fighting.

Active Preparations for Operations in Western Caucasia.

LONDON, October 5.—A Cossack force has been sent westward from the Don. Active preparations are being made for operations in Western Caucasia. The government of Odessa denies the concentration of troops near the Turkish frontier.

The Pontifical Debt.

It is thought Victor Emanuel will guarantee the Pontifical debt.

Released.

GENOA, October 5.—The Douere, a newspaper of this city, asserts that Garibaldi has certainly left Caprera.

The Majority Increasing.

LONDON, October 5.—Returns from the outer districts of the Pontificial States increase the majority for Victor Emanuel.

Thiers Reported at Florence.

The rumor continues that Thiers has arrived at Florence to consult with the Italian government.

General Burnsides Not Mediating.

LONDON, October 5.—The story that General Burnsides has been engaged in an attempt to mediate between France and Prussia is generally discredited.

Good Hope for Spain.

Special to the Times.]

LONDON, October 5.—A Madrid correspondent telegraphs that the resignation of Olozaga, Spanish Ambassador to Paris, is likely to lead to serious results. It indentifies him with the Republican party, and adds great strength to the movement in favor of France.

We Have Heard So.

The highest authority states that the alleged note of the Emperor, which appeared in La Situation yesterday, was not authentic.

Napoleons Controls No Paper.

The same high authority states that the Empress has no connection, direct or indirect, with journal inquisition, and no newpaper in England is supported or controled by the imperial family.

Never Did.

The Empress never telegraphed to the Emperor to return to France as stated.

Foreign Regiment for French Service.

Special to the World.]

LONDON, October 5.—Your special correspondent at Bologne sends word that a foreign regiment is to be formed for the service of the French at Cherbourg, to be called the volunteers of Fontenoy, and to be composed exclusively of Irish volunteers.

Napoleon's Denial.

The Standard will to-morrow contain an authorized statement from the Emperor Napoleon denying the authenticity of the letter circulated under German auspices in his name.

No Disturbances in Paris.

Your special correspondent telegraphs to-day from Rouen that everything in Paris was perfectly quiet on the third. It is utterly untrue that there ever have been any disturbances of the peace in that city.

Enormous Quantities of Arms Daily Sent to France

LONDON, October 5.—Enormous quantities of arms are daily sent forward. Millions of pounds of powder have been shipped from English ports for French ports.

Eugenie's Treatment in England.

LONDON, October 5.—The Empress Eugenie yesterday sent a letter to the Emper concerning her reception in England. She states that all official recognition of her presence has been postponed at her own request. Nothing could have been tenderer than her treatment. Queen Victoria had sent at once a private letter offering to pay her a State visit, and the Prince of Wales, immediately upon her arrival, wrote her expressing the kind remembrance entertained by the Princess and himself at their visit to Paris and the great kindness displayed towards them by her in the Tuileries, and begging to know in what way either the Princess or himself could serve her. The Empress says she is in excellent health and good spirits, as is also the Prince Imperial. Lord Ashburnam has offered her his mansion in Sussex. The Duke of Norfolk, Lord Petry, Marquis of Lansdown, and many other persons have begged permission to pay their respects to her.

Doubtful.

The diplomatists in London, encouraged by the American Minister, express confident hopes of the downfall of the Republic and the restoration of the Emperor.

Preparations for an Attack on Paris Completed.

Special to the Tribune.]

LONDON, October 5.—Your correspondent telegraphs from Berlin on the 5th: Official advices from headquarters report that preparations for a regular attack on the fortifications and for the shelling of Paris have been completed. The siege guns and mortars have arrived and have been placed in position for immediate operations.

Military Governor of Strasburg.

Gen. von Olleck, formerly Military Governor of Coblentz, has been appointed Military Governor of Strasburg.

The Last Sortie from Metz.

Your correspondent before Metz telegraphs on the 5th that a sortie was made from Metz against Jouy, held by the Eigth Corps, at noon of the 3d inst., the French wounded were left on the Germans' hands, but the dead were carried back to Metz. Fort Welen supported the attack. The French troops, who are still told they were victorious in the August battles, are growing impatient. The last sortie showed no strategic result, though several brigades were engaged on both sides.

FRANCE.

Recent French Engagements.

TOURS, October 5.—Dispatches just received here from Chartres, dated to-day, contains the following: The Prussians gained some advantages near Eperon yesterday, which opens that place to their arms. They bombarded Eperon, and for a time the Mobiles and francs-tireurs fought courageously, but were unable to contend against the vigorous artillery fire of the enemy.

It is reported here to-day that there is fighting going on near Orleans.

A dispatch from Belfast says that the francs-tireurs had defeated a detachment of the new Prussian army which recently crossed the Rhine near Colmar.

BILLEGARD, via TOURS, October 3.—There was a sharp encounter this morning at Mibels Chambon. No result given.

FONTAINEBLEAU, October 5.—A detachment of Prussians, several hundred strong, made an attack on the francs-tireurs, near here, to-day, and were handsomely repulsed. The Prussians retreated towards Challey.

Items from Tours.

TOURS, October 5.—It is announced to-day that a governmental delegation will be sent from here to be established in Liste, in case of any greater interruption of communication. No serious engagements have occurred near Paris other than those already described. The Government receives intelligence from Paris with tolerable regularity.

The daily journals here notice the manifesto of Napoleon, lately published in London. The Tours authorities have not yet been apprised that the manifesto is probably a forgery. The Gazette de France says: "Unfortunately for the Bonapartists, they published their documents seperately. M. Rouher, addressing the Emperor on the morning of the declaration of war, said: 'Animated by a calm hope, which is the true force of the Empire, you know how to wait. But in the past four years you have perfected the armament of the soldiers and raised to the highest pitch the organization of our military forces. Thanks to your care, Sire, France is ready.' "After that," the Gazette adds, "it is idle to pretend that Napoleon is not responsible for this war."

Further details tending to establish the death of General Von Moltke are published here to-day.

It is reported that the francs-tireurs recently blew up the railway for a long distance near Saverne, and the Prussian communications are sadly interrupted in consequence.

M. Lutz, one of the members of the Committee of Defense, and a delegate of the Government, has been arrested by the Mobile Garde at Besancon. The nature of the charges preferred against him are unknown.

The Elections for the Constituent Assembly.

TOURS, October 5.—It is noticeable that, as the election for the Constituent Assembly approaches, parties seem to be reviving, and their different organs are apparently thinking more of politics than of the danger of the country.

Note from M. Cremieux.

M. Cremieux, on assuming ad interim the Ministry of War, has issued a note urging the hasty organization and equipment of the Garde Mobile, and Garde Nationale.

The Constituent Assembly to Meet at Tours.

It is reported that the Constituent Assembly will meet at Tours after the election.

Gen Ulrich

Has written a letter of thanks for the enthusiastic reception by the people of Tours.

Thiers is soon expected here.

Demand for a New Mint.

It is asserted that Lyons demands the right of coinage and the establishment of a mint in that city.

Prussians Driven Back to Chailly.

FONTAINBLEAU, via LONDON, October 5.—The Francs-Tireurs have driven back to Chailly a strong force of Prussians, both horse and foot, who were threatening this place. Sixty of the enemy were disabled.

Tours the Safest City in France.

TOURS, October 5, via LONDON.—The Moniteur to-day advocates Tours as the place of the meeting of the Constituent Assembly, on the ground of its security, which that journal says is as perfect as any French city if the war continues.

Restoration of Nice to Italy.

It is said an intrigue is in process for the restoration of Nice to Italy. A force of Italian Bersaghese is at Vintimiglia on the French frontier.

PRUSSIA.

Permanent Occupation of Alsace.

BERLIN, October 5.—The Prussian column which crossed the Rhine near Mulhausen is now garrisoning that city. They are organizing measures for the permanent possession of Alsace.

Strasburg Never to Revert to France.

The "Berlin Municipality" have appeared to the relief of Strasburg. It is now settled that the venerable German city will never more revert to France. The Prussian Governor General is actively at work clearing the province of the bands of free-shooters and other lawless characters. The strictest measures are being used against the free corps. The proclamation of Prince Frederick William, providing for the summary execution or imprisonment of uniformed parties found in arms, had a wholesome effect in stopping their annoying and harrassing operations against Prussian communications, and the province is rapidly returning to order.

Sorties Made Daily from Metz.

SAARBRUCKEN, October 5, Afternoon.—The garrison at Metz make a sortie every day, but without important results. The French are always driven back with loss. Marshal Bazaine, in command there, adheres to the Emperor. The besieged are constantly sending up balloons. A large cavalry brigade has gone to Tours.

BERLIN, October 5.—The French make unsuccessful sorties from Metz almost daily. The Prussians are invariably warned by their videttes of the approach of the French, and the latter, in every instance, are immediately assailed and driven in. Their losses, consequently, are heavy.

Change in Affairs at Strasburg.

BERLIN, October 5.—Affairs in Strasburg have resumed their ordinary course so promptly that correspondents say it is difficult to realize the late events.

Doubtless Apocryphal.

BERLIN, October 5.—The following is official: The manifesto dated Wilhelmshobe, and signed by Napoleon, recently published by La Situation at London, is unknown here and doubtless apocryphal.

Troops to Occupy Alsace—No Signs of the Creation of Further French Armies.

BERLIN, October 5.—Provincial correspondence says: Troops from Strasburg and reserves from Freiburg have been detailed to occupy upper Alsace, including the cities of Mulhause and Colmar and the surrounding country, and to capture Belfort, Schestadt and New Brisach. This effected, they will advance to the interior of France.

There are no signs of the creation of further French armies.

Jacoby's Letter to Bismarck.

Special to the Herald.]

BERLIN, October 5.—Bismarck has not replied to the letter directed to him by Jacoby from prison, in which he protests against his illegal incarceration. A Democratic journal, the Teulkauft, publishes its contents, stating that this gentleman is in the habit of answering all letters addressed to him, and calls the Count's attention to it, lest it should have miscarried.

RUSSIA.

Von Moltke Decorated by the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 5.—The Czar Alexander has conferred upon Gen. Von. Moltke the highest decoration of the Empire, accompanied by a cordial letter of felicitation.

AUSTRIA.

Russia's Aggressive Movements.

VIENNA, October 5.—Further Russian aggressive movements on the East are reported. The Russian Government is reported to be making extraordinary military preparations in Trans-Caucasia, as if for offensive operations against the Turkish region adjoining the Caucasians, or against Prussian territory upon the Caspian. The fortified passes to Asia have been reinforced and stores are being accumulated.

BELGIUM.

The German Wounded in Belgium.

BRUSSELS, October 5.—The Moniteur reaffirms in contradiction to the German reports that the Prussian wounded are treated with extreme kindness in Belgium, and adds that the Bavarian Government has already attested to the Belgian tenderness.

Von Moltke Neither Ill Nor Wounded.

OSTEND, October 5.—It is not believed that General Moltke has been either ill or wounded. The reports of a Prussian movement to the north and west of Paris, that is toward Rouen and Amiens, originated merely from foraging expeditions.

The Attack on Fort Bicetre.

The Prussian losses in the attack on Fort Bicetre were immense.

The President Approves Washburne—Believes Paris Will be Captured.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5.—The President approves Minister Washburne's conduct in Paris, and to-day expressed the belief that Prussia would be successful in the siege of Paris, judging by all the military circumstances.

RUSSIA'S DESIGNS.

What the Czar Contemplates—A Raid on Turkey, or Intervention for France.

The telegraphic news that Russia is making the most gigantic preparations for war creates a curiosity to know against whom it is to be directed. In many well informed circles of Europe it is believed that it is Prussia, not Turkey, that the Czar is aiming at, and if Austria would make an alliance he would be glad to put an army in the field for France. The following extract from the Vienna correspondence of the London Telegraph treats of that view of the matter:

The marvellous tide of victory which, to our present seeming, is carrying the Prussian standards across the plains of Champagne to the walls of Paris, was not by any means anticipated in all its successful entirety by Russia, when Prince Gortschakoff went bail to Count Bismarck for the protection and safety of the Prussian rear. Circumstances notoriously alter cases; and the unexpected Prussian annexation of Alsace and Lorraine, together with the inauguration of a French Republic, have made the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs shift his wind a little. 'Europe, according to the serious conviction of St. Petersburg, is about to witness a terrific struggle between the Red and Blue Sceptres. Neither of these apparitions is at all agreeable or welcome to the Government of the Czar, and of the two the first is, perhaps, the one to be most dreaded. Annexation fever is a mighty dangerous disease in Emperors and Kings, Chancellors and such like, and can only be exercised by sanguinary and costly remedies. Whether the fear be reasonable or not, people here and in Russia begin to entertain grave apprehensions about the future policy of Prussia. They are of the opinion that Count Bismarck will, if he is allowed successfully to absorb Alsace and Lorraine, proceed to give further high-handed illustrations to the patriotic queries as to what is the German Fatherland. I don't at all share these apprehensions; for Count Bismarck being victor, I am convinced that a more noble, disinterested, philanthropic, peaceable and scrupulous statesman never before disturbed the peace of Europe. For all this Austria does uneasily look forward to a fresh onslaught, and Russia thinks it just possible that the old question of the German provinces of the Baltic now in her possession may crop up again before she has had the time to thoroughly Russianize them. In the present aspect of affairs, therefore, it has seemed good to Prince Gortschakoff to draw nearer to Austria in loving friendship. The Czar and his Chancellor had many things to explain and suggest which could not be put upon paper, and, very properly avoiding the ever-to-be-horribly-remembered fiasco of Count Benedetti, they decided to request Count Chotek, the Austrian Ambassador at St. Petersburg, to start on the wings of the morning to Vienna, and report to his Government the exceedingly amiable intentions and wishes of the St. Petersburg rulers toward those of this city. Count Chotek's travels at the present juncture are easily explained according to this Government. There are at this moment one or two pretty little outstanding differences between Russia and Austria which are not very portentious in themselves, but still are very convenient to keep on hand in international grievance stores till occasion requires. For instance, tobacco is cheap in Russia and dear in Austria, while alcohol is cheap in Austria and dear in Russia. Smuggling and wrangling ensue in consequence along the whole Galician frontier. Russia wants Austria to regulate her tariff practically for Russian convenience. Count Beust rejoins, he can't; for the matter rests with the Reichsrath; and the Reichsrath having its hands full of private quarrels, ignores possible external feuds. A second and more formidable grievance exists in the proximity and intrigues of the Monastery of Wielo Krinitzka in the Bukowina, not far from the Russian frontier. This monastery appears to be the Holy of holies and headquarters of the sect of Raskolnocks, which, I am told, is very numerous and troublesome in Russia. This is the only monastery of the sect which possesses the faculty of ordaining its priesthood, and is, therefore, especially obnoxious to Russia, which requires its suppression by the Austrian Government, to which Count Beust, as a matter of course, replies that free Austria can't do such arbitrary acts. The main object of Count Chotek's journey, however, is undoubtedly in connection with the "general European question," and Russia would be pleased just now to come to an entente cordiale on it with Austria. What Russia proposes is best known to herself and the Austrian Chancellor, and it behooves the latter to be wary, for the Argus-eyed Bismarck is intently watching him, as well as everybody else, from the vineyards of Champagne.

The Manchester Guardian of September 16th speaks in an alarmed tone of Russia's power in the East and her evident yearning for the British possessions in that quarter. The Guardian thinks that with France crippled, England has not a first-class power willing to help it in either the east or west. The Berlin Avenir, a Republican paper, prophesies that there will be war between Russia and Prussia, while the Cologne Gazette, hopes for an alliance between the two countries.

Miscellaneous War News.

Marshal MacMahon, who has been residing at Pouru-aux-Bois, near Bouillon, at the chateau of the Mayor, has sent to the Organe of Namur the following interesting note: "Marshal MacMahon was wounded on the 1st of September, at six in the morning, at the very commencement of the last battle, in which he held no command. It was by order of the Minister of War, Comte de Palikao, and of the Committee of Defense, that he executed the march which proved so fatal to the arms of France. This is what infallibly happens when people take upon them to direct the movements of distant armies from the closet. In these circumstances one can draw up a general plan, but one cannot descend to details; and this is what Gen. Cousin de Montauban forgot. Marshal McMahon's intentions was to fall back on Paris, after reorganizing the army so unfortunately undone at Sedan. He was not permitted to accomplish his wise project. As soon as the state of his health will permit, Marshal McMahon will not fail to publish proofs that he cannot be considered responsible for the immense disaster at Sedan. Between a victorious army and the frontier of a neutral nation, there was no escape if an accident occurred."

The black, red and gold flag, the national German one, is said to come from the times of Barbarossa. That Emperor was crowned in 1152 ruler of Germany, in the Frankfort Cathedral. The way from the Dom to the Romer Palace, where the public festivities were held, was laid with a carpet representing the colors black, red and gold. After the coronation the carpet was given to the people, and everybody tried to cut off a piece, which was carried about the city as a flag. In the year 1181, at the Reichstag at Mayence, these colors were recognized as the true German ones, and they were retained until Napoleon put an end to the Empire in 1806. Since that time the Burschenschaften have kept the old colors in memory. In the revolutionary year 1848 the German colors were again brought to light by the members of the National Assembly at Frankfort. There was considerable discussion at the time as to which color had the precedence. Freiligarth sang: "Powder is black, blood is red, and golden flickers the flame! That is the old Imperial standard." Friedrich Wilhelm II., however, was the author of the motto bearing the meaning of the German—"From night, through blood, to light!" The German national flag is now seen in Germany instead of the flags of the separate countries, and it is a weighty fact that even in Berlin the German flag had recently to be hoisted by order of the public.

MANSFIELD, O.

The Robinson-Lunsford Murder Trial—The Prisoner's Testimony—He Tells a Straight Story—More Testimony Against Rooze—County Fair.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MANSFIELD, O., October 5, 1870.

The testimony in the Robinson case closed at half-past eleven this morning and the court adjourned till half-past one. Mr. Robinson, the defendant, was put on the stand this morning. He told a straight-forward, unequivocal story as to his whereabouts on the night of the murder. His testimony as to the time he arrived at home agrees with the statement of his wife at the inquest. He says he did not, on the night of the murder, or at any previous time, scuffle with Mrs. Lunsford, or bite her arm. Richard Smith testified that Jacob Roose worked on the Opera House for his father at the time of the murder and would not work during the Coroner's investigation, but took quite an active part in directing suspicion towards Robinson. Andrew Stevenson, the Prosecuting Attorney, consumed the afternoon in his argument. A night session is now in progress, and L. B. Matson is making an able and ingenious argument for the defense. He will cover the whole ground of the case.

The Richland county Fair is still languishing, on account of unfavorable weather. The rain has now ceased, however, and a good day is promised for to-morrow. The Fair will continue one day beyond the advertised time, on account of the unauspicious opening. The display is grand, particularly of stock, fruit and machines. Floral Hall is magnificently decorated. The entries are large.

THE COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.

The Proceedings Yesterday.

CINCINNATI, October 5.—The Southern Commercial Convention was called to order by President Garrett at ten o'clock. The reading of the minutes was dispensed with. Mr. Stennard, of St. Louis, offered a resolution fixing the hours of meeting at from ten A. M. to one P. M., three to six P. M., and eight to ten P. M., unless otherwise ordered by the Convention. Adopted.

The regular order of business was then proceeded with, which was the announcement by the several States of their selection of members of the Committees to each of the twenty-one topics to come before the Convention.

Reports from several of the committees of the Louisville Convention were presented and referred to appropriate committees.

A large number of resolutions on various subjects were read and referred.

A rule limiting speeches to ten minutes was adopted.

The District of Columbia was added to the list of States.

N. P. Banks, of Massachusetts, and J. B. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., being the only delegates from Massachusetts and the District of Columbia, they were granted leave to serve on as many of the standing committees as they may choose.

On motion of Mr. Forshe, of Texas, a special committee was constituted on Translatitudinal Railroads.

On motion of Mr. Cole, of Tennessee, a committee on railroads generally was created.

A resolution offered by Mr. Maccomb, declaring in favor of a friendly interposition on the part of the United States to secure a speedy peace between the Republic of France and the Kingdom of Prussia, was declared not in order. Subsequently the rules were suspended and the resolution was brought before the Convention. A call was made for a division, as all might be in favor of an early peace, but not in favor of any intervention by this Government. The Chair (N. P. Banks) decided that the resolution was not susceptible of division, but a vote might be taken separately on the preamble and resolution.

Mr. Snyder, of Tenn., moved to lay the resolution on the table. Carried.

A reconsideration was then moved and lost, after which the resolution was referred to a special committee of five.

The committee was then announced.

CINCINNATI, October 5.—The Southern Commercial Convention held no sessions after 1 P. M., in order to afford the committees time to consider matters referred to them.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 5, 1870.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

In the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions to-day, five hundred clergymen were present. Secretary Treat read a paper on the undenominational character of the Board. A deputation from the London Board was present and one of them, Rev. Mr. Allen Henry Might, delivered an address. Various committees were appointed.

The afternoon session was mainly devoted to a consideration of the Sandwich Islands Mission, which is about to be closed. In the report of the Committee on Dr. Treat's paper on the undenominational character of the Board, the report approved of that statement of facts and principles and accepted the basis for the transfer of property to the Presbyterians, agreed upon at Boston.

SUITS AGAINST WHISKY MEN.

Suits have been instituted on behalf of the United States against bonds amounting to a million dollars given by whisky and tobacco dealers to secure the payment of taxes, but who relinquished business largely in arrears.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The steamer Westphalia sailed early this morning.

The French gunboats which conveyed the Ville de Paris to sea have returned.

The London and New York steamship line has been discontinued. The Parana, sailing to-day, is the last vessel.

The steamship City of Limerick, from Liverpool, has arrived.

COLONEL FISK

Has consented to pay taxes on the interest of the bonds of the Erie Railway, with the ten per cent. added.

YELLOW FEVER.

No furthur cases of yellow fever have occurred in the city, though some additional ones are reported on Governor's Island.

YACHT RACES.

The Cambria and Sappho race Monday, and the Cambria and Dauntless on Wednesday next. The Fleetwing has challenged the Cambria.

ILLICIT STILL SEIZED.

An illicit whisky still was seized in Irving street, Brooklyn, with 6,000 gallons of mash.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

After te meeting of the Associated Press yesterday, it was said, ex-cathedra, that the Sun was about to sue the Tribune for $100,000 damages. The Tribune has delayed its special war dispatches until a late hour, to bother its contemporaries, and compelling them, if they wish to use its dispatches, to print them in a supplement. This has borne harder on the Sun and Times than on any other papers, the former having been compelled to publish thirty-four supplements, while it has lost about thirty thousand readers.

GREAT APPLAUSE.

Madame Seebach made a great sensation to-night in Jane Eyre. She was called before the curtain three times at the end of the first act and several times subsequently.

An Important Religious Movement.

Several American ministers and laymen traveling in Europe, and becoming acquainted with the operations of the Systematic Beneficence Society of Great Britain and Ireland, and its Secretary, Dr. Catner, invited him to visit this country, and on Friday night, in New York, at a public meeting, he made an interesting and suggestive statement concerning the Society. It is now about eighteen years old, and enrolls no members, exacts no pledges, makes no recommendations of objects of beneficence, nor allows itself to be made the channel for distributing charities, but confines itself solely to educating the Christian public into the habit of systematic giving for church and charitable purposes. They have found that the great sin of the Church is selfishness and covetousness, and that it is the sin that people are least instructed about or warned against. There is but one case of discipline on record for this offense, and that occurred in England two hundred years ago. It is believed by the Society that if the people are thoroughly educated in their duty they will cheerfully perform it. And the Doctor cited instances where this truth had been verified. The United Presbyterian Church of Scotland had, through its General Assembly, adopted the principles of the Society, disseminated its publications and increased thereby its missionary collections in ten years from £10,000 to £100,000 a year. The Free Church of Scotland had a similar tale to tell, and it was the same with other denominations. The Society is a voluntary organization of Christian men and ministers, who hold periodical meetings in the principal cities of the United Kingdom, at which the leading men of the land are present. Growing out of this movement has been another, which was organized about five years ago under the title of the "International Christian Moral Science Association," with a Provisional Council of one hundred and thirty persons, who, without pledges of any sort, agree that the ministers shall pay $25 and the laymen $50 a year for three years. With the fund thus created they issue publications of every sort to combat scientific infidelity, and to teach the science of Christianity. A branch has been formed in Germany, and it is the design of the originators to extend it throughout the Anglican race and for that reason it is now offered to Americans. It seeks to extend the Christian religion and to establish not only inward but outward unity among the different branches of the Christian Church. Dr. Adams thought it proposed nothing, that the Evangelical Alliance had not proposed. Dr. Catner, however, explained the important distinctions between the two organizations—the Alliance being merely social and dealing only with individuals, while the Moral Science Association teaches the scientific truths which underlie Christianity.

This society should meet with favor, if it does well the work it sets out to accomplish. For if there is anything needed among Protestant Christians it is the possession of practical, systematic habits of giving where it is needed. With all their great charities the churches do not give as much as they are able to, and by system they can not only greatly increase their liberality, but can actually decrease the burthen upon all individual donors. The Catholic Christians have long ago learned this, and their churches, schools and convents, which are so rapidly multiplying in numbers and costliness in this country, are literally built out of the daily pennies of the poor, who have given much because they have given gradually.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5, 1870.

The Erie Bond Asking Bonds.

A representative of the Erie Railway was at the Treasury Department yesterday to see about getting that road bonded under the new inland port of entry law. A formal application to be bonded will be made to the Secretary within a few days by the principal railways between New York and the west, after which the sureties offered must be examined and approved and other necessary arrangements before the act can get into operation.

Dr. Pinckney.

The consecration of the Rev. Dr. Pinckney, as Episcopal Bishop of this diocese, takes place here to-morrow. Extensive preparations have been made to entertain the visiting clergy and other prominent gentlemen of that persuasion.

Missouri Politics.

The Chronicle of this morning editorially says that the bolters of Missouri are to receive their just deserts at last. A clean sweep will be made among the office holders of that State, and the factious followers of Schurz will no longer be enabled to draw their sustenance from the party which they have united to defeat. The Government have quite enough to do in looking out for its friends, and cannot be expected to give either aid or encouragement to its enemies.

A Pavement to be Chosen.

The question of the kind of pavement which shall be laid on Pennsylvania avenue has been decided. The Commissioners have decided to test the merits of wood pavements, the Stowe, Miller, Follansbee and Robbin laid down in sections.

Stamp Printing Contract.

Proposals will be invited in a few days for printing the revenue stamps by contract. The printing of these stamps has heretofore been distributed between the Continental Bank Note Company, Butler & Carpenter, of Philadelphia, and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in the Treasury Department. Bids will be invited for printing all except segar stamps and strip tobacco stamps, a contract for furnishing these being now standing with the Continental Bank Note Company.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5, 1870.

THE ARMY.

By a general order issued from the War Department, the western superintendency of the General Recruiting service, at St. Louis, is discontinued. The officers in charge of the rendezvous will report to Col. Wessels, at Cincinnati, and send the recruits enlisted, to Newport Barracks. The permanent party and unassigned recruits at Fort Leavenworth will be sent to Newport Barracks; as soon as the services of the officers on duty at Fort Leavenworth, can be dispensed with, they will join their regiments or await orders. The rendezvous for the mounted recruiting service in the Western Superintendency will be closed, and unassigned recruits at Fort Leavenworth, sent to Omaha.

SOLICITOR GENERALSHIP.

No appointment of Solicitor General will be made until the return of Attorney General Akerman. The President's preference is for Col. Bristow, of Kentucky.

POLITICAL.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CANTON, O., October 5, 1870.

A Republican meeting was held here in the Court House last evening. It was advertised to be held in the open air, but the rain made it necessary to go in doors. Hon. J. A. Ambler, Republican candidate for Congress in this district, was introduced by Judge Underhill, and talked ably for two hours on the questions of the day. There was a good attendance, considering the weather. The Democrats also held a meeting in Schaeffer's Opera House, and a few hundred of the unterrified listened to R. S. Shields, a young lawyer of this place, who was particularly severe in his remarks concerning the carpet baggers.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

HOBART, IND, October 5, 1870.

Vice President Colfax addressed one of the largest gatherings ever held in this part of the State at Crown Point to-day. His speech was logical, argumentative and eloquent, and his deductions and conclusions were most convincing. He spoke for two hours to over 3,000 persons, and seemed to appreciate that he was addressing for the last time the people of the county, to whom, in a great measure, he owes his political preferment. His assurance that this was the last political campaign in which he should ever take part, was received with evident feelings of deep regret by his hearers, who have ever looked upon him as the perfection of a statesman. The greatest excitement was manifested at the close of the speech, and it seemed impossible for him to part with those for whom he has ever expressed the greatest regard. The people here can never be reconciled to his proposed retirement from public life and will continue to regard him as the choice of the people for President, when the proper time arrives. No statesman of our time has such a large hold on the affections of the masses as Mr. Colfax, and his decision will cause universal regret.

WORCESTER, MASS., October 5.—The Republican State Convention met to-day. It was largely attended and very enthusiastic. Hon. A. H. Bullock presided and delivered an address. The nominations are as follows: For Governor—Wm. Claflin; Lieutenant Governor—Joseph Tucker; Secretary of State—Oliver Warner; Attorney General—Charles Allen; Auditor—Charles Edicott; Treasurer—Charles Adams, Jr. This is the old ticket, with the exception of Treasurer, the old Treasurer going out under the law. A resolution in favor of woman suffrage was brought before the convention, but failed to get a majority of votes, the votes on it standing, yeas 139; nays 196. The resolutions adopted congratulate the country upon the success of Republican principles in the administration of the government; approve the economical administration of President Grant, which has lightened taxation and reduced the public debt; recommend still further reduction of taxation, to relieve the industry of the nations, by funding the debt of the country; still further declare the Republican party pledged to protect the newly enfranchised citizens in their rights; recommend the cutting off of all useless expenses in State matters, and indorse Governor Claflin. The five last resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, That the Republican party, which in the ten years of its history has accomplished more for the elevation of the laborers of America than had been accomplished before since the government was formed, hears with surprise and indignation the claim of any other organization to arrogate to itself the title of Labor Party; that, in our judgment, the intellectual and social advancement of the laborers of the country, their improvement in wealth, comfort and happiness, the security of their personal and political rights, are not only important objects of care and regard, but are the very purpose for which the State was created, and the end and object of all political effort.

Resolved, That a decent regard to the honor of the United States requires that measures shall be taken by the national administration to vindicate the claim by our country on Great Britain for proper reparation for the hostile action of that nation in prematurely and unnecessarily recognizing the rebel States as belligerents, and for permitting the fitting out in their ports of hostile cruisers to prey upon our commerce.

Resolved, That the Republican party favor laws wisely calculated to prevent tippling and drunkenness, and promote temperance and industry and to suppress dramshops, as tending to the happiness of the people and the general interests of the Commonwealth.

MEMPHIS, October 5.—The delegates to the Republican Congressional Convention, which was called to meet in the Opera House to-day, owing to a division in reference to the respective candidates, divided before the hour of meeting. The adherents of General Smith repaired to a chamber in the Waldren block. There, after appointing delegates to fill vacancies, they nominated General Smith, who, in a speech, accepted the nomination. The other portion met in the Opera House and nominated Hon. David Munn, who declined in favor of Ed. Shaw, colored, who was nominated by acclamation, and in a lengthy speech accepted the nomination. In the latter Convention, all the counties in the district were represented. The friends of General Smith give as a reason for withdrawing, that it was done to prevent a collision with Munn's friends. The feeling between the parties is very bitter. Each proposes to thoroughly canvass the district.

The Georgia Democracy refuse to be reconciled, and have nominated for Congress General Carswell, late of the Confederate army, and Judge Wilkes, neither of whom can take the test oath.

The passage of the Akerman Election bill, which postpones the Georgia election from November to December, has had the effect of uniting the several branches of the Republican party in that State. Under these bills a glorious victory for the Republican cause is confidently expected in December next.

Commissioner Delano, with his son and Solicitor Smith will return to Ohio about the latter part of this week to take part in the political campaign in that State.

According to a Washington special it is stated that the President has about decided to make a clean sweep of the Federal office-holders in Missouri who have taken an active part in the Schurz movement. This is demanded by the regular Republican candidates as a necessary means of saving the State from the Democracy this fall.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

TOLEDO, October 5.—At a meeting held today by the stockholders of the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railway Company, the following gentlemen were elected directors for the ensuing year: Azariah Boody, Isaac H. Knox, A. M. White, Wm. Kidd, A. B. Baylis, Horace F. Clark, S. B. Chittenden, James H. Barker, Augustus Schell, all of New York; George Cecil, of Logansport, Ind.; James Spears, of Lafayette, Ind.; C. M. Smith, of Springfield, Ill.; Warren Colburn, of Toledo, Ohio; J. N. Drummond, of Toledo, Ohio; Amasa Stone, Jr., Cleveland, Ohio. This company open their line to St. Louis this week, running trains with palace cars from New York through without change.

OMAHA, October 5.—T. E. Sickles, formerly Chief Engineer, has been appointed General Superintendent of the Union Pacific Railroad; C. W. Mead, Assistant General Superintendent. The land sales by the Union Pacific Railroad in September, amounted to $55,731.

AN ASIATIC EARTHQUAKE.

A Region Larger Than Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island Overturned—Over 3,000 Lives Lost—Mountains Rise and Disappear.

NEW YORK, October 5.—European mail advices state that the Roman Catholic Bishop at Botany, on the confines of Thibet, China, and Burmah, sends to India a terrible account of the earthquake in that region, affecting an area of one hundred and eighty by ninety miles, on the 11th of April. The Chinese official reports estimate the loss of human life at 413 Llama priests, 57 soldiers and 2,812 common people. Pung-Mon, Long Village and many other towns are destroyed. So many of the authorities and soldiers have been buried under the ruins of their homes that robbers run everywhere. The imperial highway from Pekin to Lesser Thibet is said to be totally impracticable by the fall of a mountain and the sudden upheaval of a new one.

The principal features of the St. Louis fair yesterday, were the exhibitions of cattle, jacks and jennets, horses of all work, harness, and contests for sweepstake premiums for cattle, the latter exhibitions remarkably fine, some of the best herds of cattle in the country being among the competitors. The exhibition of horses was also first-class and drew a tremendous crowd. The attendance was 40,000 or 50,000. This will be a gala day. The Merchant's Exchange and all public offices will be closed, business be generally suspended and as usual nearly the whole city turn out for a holiday.

For Marvin's Superior Boston Crackers. TThs

The great clock on the Cathedral of Strasburg has been written about and wondered over until it is familiar to every seven year old that lisps his A B C's. We know of but one building so famous as Strasburg Cathedral, and but one article so familiar to the people as the famous clock. The Oregon Brewery, with its cream ale, if not quite so wonderful to look upon, is certainly much more useful to the world at large. †

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

CONGRESS, XXIID DISTRICT,
Major WM. FREW, Pittsburgh.
CONGRESS, XXIIID DISTRICT,
EBENEZER McJUNKIN, Butler county.

JURY COMMISSIONER,
AARON FLOYD, Pittsburgh.
DIRECTOR OF THE POOR,
MINAS TINDLE, Kilbuck.

OUR friends throughout the State will again lay us under obligations by sending election returns as soon as actual results are ascertained, especially on Members of Congress and Legislature. For such favors it will give us pleasure to reciprocate in any way in our power.

THE Reform Republican tickets are ready for distribution at the Headquarters, No. 129 Smithfield street, near the new City Hall. Let those interested in Reform call and get the tickets for their districts without delay.

WE would call the attention of all True Republicans, all believers in economy in county affairs, all seekers after truth in regard to the real issues of the present campaign in Allegheny county, to the Reform meetings announced for this evening. All Republicans of this city, especially those of the Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh and Thirteenth wards, will meet at the corner of Webster avenue and Fulton street. There will be a meeting in the Allegheny Diamond at 7 1-2 o'clock also. Good speakers will be present at both places.

THE announcement that Russia proposes to ignore the treaty of Paris made in 1856, and intends trying to recover the strip of territory in Bessarabia and the naval preponderance on the Black Sea, lost by that treaty, is expected to have great influence upon the British policy, if not indeed to draw England into active efforts to terminate the war between Prussia and France. In 1856, Great Britain, France, Sardinia and Turkey undertook the Crimean war, on the ground that the existence of the Ottoman Empire and the equilibrium of Europe were endangered by Russia's growth. By two years fighting, involving the expenditures of thousands of lives and one thousand eight hundred millions of treasure, these powers induced Russia to sign with them such a treaty as they wished, and England must now either interfere to stop the present war, which is the Czar's opportunity, or else lose the fruits of the Crimean war. Besides this, the revival of Russian power on the Black Sea would so strengthen and embolden that empire as to put the valuable Indian possessions of England in jeopardy of being eventually lost to her.

WHEN the "Regulars" rejected the offer of the Reformers to submit to the Republican party the question of deference as to candidates, they wrote themselves down disorganizers and factionists, without reason or love for the party or its principles. It was an open declaration that they acted on the rule or ruin principle. If they had said in so many words, we are for the party so long as we can run it, they would not have made the fact more plain. The proposition for a settlement of difficulties embraced the question of Congressman as well as other offices, and when the "Regulars" rejected it they forfeited all right to the title they claim, and from that moment the Reformers stood justified before the people. And the people will stand by them and their candidates—not only because their course is right, but because they have done all that could be reasonably asked of them to harmonize the party. We go to the people on the record, as well as on our candidates and platform of principles. We know that the public judgment is with us on all these—that the conscience of the masses approves our course, and we are confident that this is the verdict which the ballot-boxes will record.

THE "Regulars" appear to have abandoned everything else to save NEGLEY. And this, too, when a majority of them concede his unfitness, would rejoice if he were out of the field and admit that his election is out of the question. On his merits and on a fair test, he would not obtain three thousand votes in the district. It is something amazing that intelligent Republicans can think of stultifying themselves by "going it blind" for a candidate in whom they have no confidence, when such a man as Major FREW is in the field, and whose election is entirely practicable, if it is not already absolutely certain. The Tariff question is held up as the test question. Is General NEGLEY a better Tariff man than Major FREW? How is it necessary to elect NEGLEY in order to insure a Tariff Representative? Are not the people free agents, and exists there a reason, if they prefer FREW to NEGLEY or HOPKINS, why they should not so declare? "We urge on every voter," says the New York Tribune, "to strike from his ballot any name which he knows to be that of a dishonest or unfit man, no matter for the consquences." By acting on such a principle, it urges, the time will be short when we shall have any other than fit candidates. All voters—especially Republicans—should apply this test. If it shall help General NEGLEY, well and good. We are willing to have it applied to our candidate, and would like to hear of a single reason why it should not be applied in the present contest. Every Tariff argument, every reason that should determine the action of the honest voters sanctions it. Let Republicans reject appeals that require them to "go it blind," smother conscience and violate judgment; and let them go straight ahead doing what they know to be right now and best in the future. If they will do this, they must vote for Major FREW in preference to General NEGLEY.

WE believe it is the settled intention of the Republicans of Allegheny county to consummate the Reform movement by electing the ticket which represents it before the people. They will do this because Reform is needed and can be obtained in no other way. They will do it as the only way to introduce economy and honesty into the management of our affairs and cut down taxation. And they will do it to dethrone the dynasty which the Rings and Cliques have established, whereby the Republican party is corruptly ruled and public opinion defied. To this end the election of the entire Republican ticket is necessary, not only legislative, but county. In the Twenty-second Congressional District it is now perfectly clear that if we are to have a Republican Representative, Major FREW must be the man. The persistency of General NEGLEY in running renders it necessary for those who wish to defeat HOPKINS to concentrate on FREW; and this is the view which Republicans are now taking. As a practical question there is no other way to deal with it. It is unquestionably an unfortunate circumstance that in a district so strongly Republican as this there should be any danger of the election of a Democrat. To meet the question, voters must in conscience select the candidate who will make the best Representative and has the best title to their support, concentrate on him and make his election certain. If any other rule is to prevail, then a premium will be set on unfit candidates, and what is bad now will surely become worse in the future. If NEGLEY is the man our voters think most fit to be their Representative; if they think he is deserving of the indorsement of a re-election, and if they know him to be such a man as they should vote for in preference to Major FREW, then let them make haste to say so. But before coming to this conclusion let them consider whether or not in voting for NEGLEY they will stultify themselves as members of society professing decency, good principles, and claiming to value integrity and ability as qualifications the possession of which is necessary to secure their approval. Let them settle that question and act accordingly, and Major FREW will be our next Congressman.

THE DESPERATE GAME OF BRAG.

The Committee of the "Regulars," realizing the necessity of doing something to arouse the drooping spirits of their followers, have resorted to the brag game.

They parade the counts they have made in certain districts which, of course, are favorable to themselves—counts, in some instances at least, deliberately manufactured outright.

Whoever has paid any attention to this canvass will say, that hereabouts, as a rule, this fall, a great many voters are not proclaiming how they are going to vote. There is a remarkable state of things in this respect, which, as every man of sense knows, bodes no good to the "Regulars."

We hazard nothing in saying, that no one man can make a correct canvass of the Regular Committee even—for not an inconsiderable number will vote some portion of the Reform Ticket.

Having put down figures which represent no known state of facts, the leaders are parading them, first to get up their own courage, and second to inspire some confidence among their disheartened followers.

The truth is, the people are going to vote this fall as they have never before voted. Every intelligent man knows this very well—and whenever the employed canvasser, by guessing or on whatever knowledge he is for the moment able to obtain, undertakes to report in exact figures the vote of any district,—all the while of course striving to make a favorable showing for the "Regulars"—his report, while it may serve the puprose to infuse a momentary spirit into the ranks of the disheartened "Regulars," cannot be relied on.

"The "Regular" leaders know very well that there exists a state of things extremely ominous to them—that the Republicans are going to adopt the advice of the Tribune and "scratch" their ticket freely, and that this scratching will be almost uniformly in favor of the Reform candidates.

Having deceived themselves, or adopted the false showing, knowing it to be false, the leaders are engaged in an attempt to deceive others. They will simply have the labor for their pains—for this is the year when neither brag nor coercion will avail anything.

To Reformers we say: Courage and work! Every day adds to your numbers. An overwhelming popular sentiment is with you. Thousands whom the "Regulars" reckon for them are with you, and will make themselves felt through the ballot box.

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

The "organ" has more than once charged us with a coalition with the Democracy. If there was anything that most particularly characterized the policy of that party, it has always been the endeavor to array labor against capital, by exciting prejudices against the rich. And this is precisely the direction into which the "organ" has been driven by the desperate necessities of its case. It denounces the Reform ticket as the rich man's ticket, and endeavors to defend the enormous Jury tax by the basest appeals to the supposed prejudices of "working men and farmers, and hard fisted laborers," as though it were a great privilege to all of them to be taken away from their work to do service on juries at $2 50 per day. When the people read these things in a newspaper claiming to be decent, they will naturally turn back to the heading to inquire whether it is not the Post that they have stumbled upon.

We would like to know, however, whether there is a farmer or mechanic or honest, respectable working man in the county who would wish to be torn from his home and business at such a price, or would desire to see his taxes quadrupled annually merely because he might be called upon to serve as a juror perhaps once in every five years. It would be a libel on all these classes to say that they have ever called upon the managers to beg the privilege of idling away a week or two about the Court House. It is only the loafers, the hangers-on, the do-nothings, the class which as a general thing can neither read or write, and is entirely unfitted either to weigh evidence or comprehend the charge of a Court that court the privilege of sitting as jurors on the fortunes and liberty and lives of other men, and it is this particular class which always votes the "Dimmikratic" ticket that is just now the object of special commiseration with the "organ." We say to it, however, that it may wallow in the mire as long and as deeply as it chooses, but in the outcome it will find that it is no match for the Post, and will get no votes from the gutters.

MORE THAT H. BUCHER SWOPE DON'T KNOW.

Our friend, the District Attorney, who does not know where we get our information, and now intimates that he represents the Government at the meetings of the Regulars, referred in his speech in the Twelfth ward to the question of the apportionment of Congressmen, and while he admits that the last took place in 1862, undertakes to explain his very positive misstatement by referring to a premature and abortive act of the previous year, which was brought about in consequence of the provisions of an act of Congress passed on the 23d of May, 1850, which is now substantially inoperative.

The act to which we refer was one that fixed the number of Representatives at 233 on the then Constitutional basis of three-fifths in regard to slaves, and directed the Secretary of the Interior to make the computation by dividing the aggregate by 233, and then to certify the result to the several States. The law was, however, changed by the addition of eight members to be distributed among the States having the largest fraction, and the result was that the opposition was a little too fast for the occasion, as it would be now with the number and ratio yet undetermined by Congress, and the whole question open to them until the summary of 1872.

To show, moreover, what the uniform and unbroken practice has been in this State, and how little Mr. BUCHER SWOPE knows about a subject on which he discourses so knowingly, we subjoin the dates of all the apportionment acts that we find to have been passed by the Legislature of this State:

Act of April 2, 1802—3 Smith's Laws, 502.
Act of March 20, 1812—5 Smith's Laws, 320.
Act of April 2, 1822—7 Smith's Laws, 667.
Act of June 9, 1832—Pamphlet Laws, 560.
Act of January 15, 1842—Requesting Congress to hurry up the apportionment, in order to save an extra session—Pamphlet Laws, 473.
Act of May 1, 1852—Pamphlet Laws, 494.
Act of April 19, 1862—Pamphlet Laws, 407.

It would take much more time than we have to spare to show all that Mr. H. BUCHER SWOPE, pro hac vice, quasi Representative of the Government, don't know, but we hope that this will be satisfactory.

FEDERAL ECONOMY AND COUNTY EXTRAVAGANCE.

The "organ" claims a large degree of credit for the administration of General GRANT "because it has afforded the people the pleasing spectacle, month after month, of a burdensome debt dwindling down surely and rapidly;" and because "Taxation has been largely reduced, and all the affairs of the Government go on smoothly and well ordered."

This is all right, but how different from the rule of the managers, with a burdensome debt and taxation increasing from year to year, and the "organ" itself justifying the whole!

It asks the Democrats to turn a deaf ear to their party organs which charge extravagance, and look at the figures which won't lie.

And so do we ask the readers of the "organ" to give no heed to its denials of mismanagement in county affairs, but look at the figures, which "won't lie" here any more than in the other case.

If economy is to recommend in the one case, why should not waste and prodigality equally condemn in the other?

VOTE FOR FIT MEN ONLY.

"Hew to the Line, Let the Chips Fall Where They Will."

[From the New York Tribune, Wednesday, Sept. 28.]

We ask no one to support an incapable or unworthy candidate for office because he is called a Republican and has a regular nomination. On the contrary we urge every voter to strike from his ballot any name which he knows to be that of a dishonest or unfit man, NO MATTER FOR THE CONSEQUENCES. Conventions and wire-workers must be taught that such nominations will not answer, and this is the way to teach them. Do not ask us to particularize and denounce—for the friends of the bad candidates would resent such denunciation by striking at the good ones—but do you make due inquiry, and scratch off every bad man's name from the ballot you vote. The immediate consequence may be disagreeable, but the ultimate effect will be wholesome and beneficent. Understand, then, once for all, that we do not wish you to vote for a thief or a fool because of his politics. If any Republican nominee is unworthy, you cannot better serve the Republican cause than by refusing to vote for him, and thus compelling better nominations thereafter.

But there are those who, disgusted with a bad name on the ticket of their party, refuse to vote at all; and that is every way wrong and mischievous. It does nothing toward securing better nominations in future, since the good nominees suffer equally with the bad ones. It involves the repudiation of a grave public duty on a pretext utterly insufficient if not wholly irrelevant.

If every voter would religiously exercise his right of suffrage at each election, taking care to scratch from his ballot each and every name which ought not to be there, whether he put a good name in its place or not, we should soon have the right sort of nominees every time. Unprincipled aspirants would no longer pack primary meetings and buy nominations, if the inevitable result would be their disgraceful defeat. Let us all resolve to scratch every bad nominee, but take scrupulous care to vote for every good one!"

THE PAPAL GOVERNMENT.

Concerning the merits of the government in Rome there has been some difference of opinion among foreigners. In fact it has been one of the several subjects of controversy between Catholics and Protestants. Quite naturally the former, viewing the subject from the standing point of their devout prepossessions, could hardly fail to fancy a government under the immediate supervision of the Holy Father almost a perfect copy or transcript of that divine administrative economy which secures order and happiness in heaven. Protestants, on the other hand, antecedently to inquiry, were often well assured that the Roman Government, like priestly rule elsewhere, must be in every way bad. So great is the force of prejudice. But, strangely enough, even testimony upon actual inspection and personal familiarity with the working of the sacerdotal administration in Rome has not been unanimous on the subject of its merits. Founding judgment upon the details reported, not only by Protestants but Catholics, it is perhaps not far from the truth to say that, in general, the temporal rule of the Pope, as administered by his officials, while not entirely destitute of good points, and certainly often showing kind intentions in its supreme Head, has been upon the whole a most oppressive and meddlesome system. It unmistakably lacked those qualities which might have been expected in a government in the eyes of whose chief the great purpose of earth is to prepare for heaven. In so far as the accomplishment of this object was made one of the functions of papal rule in Rome, it was an utter failure, according to the testimony of nearly all intelligent Protestants. That it quite failed to secure the affections or respect of the people has been made manifest by their vote in the late Plebiscite. So overwhelming a majority in favor of transfer to the rule of VICTOR EMANUEL, so absolute a rejection of Papal administration could have been looked for only by those who have accepted without misgiving the statements of anti-Papal tourists concerning the hatred with which the Roman populace regarded their sacerdotal rulers. One can hardly believe that the Pope himself was not surprised by the vote; he could hardly have known how much his Government was disliked. What he intends to do, whether he will remain in Rome or go to some other place, nobody at present pretends to guess.

Views of an Experienced Statesman

To give a faint idea of what a railroad will do for the Monongahela valley, the following quotation is made from a speech delivered by the venerable Andrew Stewart at Indiana, last Thursday, touching upon some of the magical effects of the Connellsville road upon the country through which it passes. The thoughtful attention of the men of Pittsburgh is respectfully directed to what Mr. Stewart said, though it is but a mere hint for them to carry out and apply through all the vast and innumerable effects the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railroad would have, if constructed, upon trade, population, property and wealth in this city and the extensive district through which it will pass. Mr. S remarked:

> These railroads are great sources of prosperity and building up of our country, and it is more prosperous to-day than it ever was before. These great railroads are spreading over the country. Look at the blessings they are bringing with them. A country that has no railroads cannot compete with those that have them. As I was coming down the railroad, a day or two since, a good Democrat, I say good, because I believe he will help us a little. [Laughter.] He lives about five miles from Uniontown, on the Connellsville Railroad. He has a farm on which is a limestone quarry, and the railroad runs near this. He told me some time ago he sold not quite three-fourths of an acre of limestone for building purposes, to be taken away by the purchaser, for $3,800 whereas, without the railroad, it would not have been as valuable as common ground. He said another party came along a few days ago and bought an acre and three-fourths, and agreed to give him $3,000, and paid him $1,000 in hand to have the privilege of taking the stone away. Look at the Connellsville road. Before it was built there were no furnaces blazing out where now many are to be seen, and the country has improved along the line in every respect.

In this connection we call the attention of the reader to a communication in another column, over the signature of "Sound Economy," presenting many important facts concerning the proposed Southern railroad, which it would be well for those of our citizens who can command means, to carefully investigate and ponder.

A NEW Atlantic cable company has been formed and organized, and has its contracts made, and only waits the termination of the war to begin operations, which have been delayed on account of the European struggle. It is entitled, "The New York and London Direct Telegraph Company, Limited," and it has a strong association, organized after a careful investigation of the subject, has ascertained that a thoroughly equipped cable, with all the recent improvements, can be laid at so comparatively moderate a cost as to afford a remuneration for the outlay on a much lower tariff of charges than is now in operation. The prices of cable telegraphing are exorbitant even yet, as the newspaper press can well testify, and as many other parties know. Indeed, it is said that there are private banking houses in New York, whose cable dispatches both ways, cost $50,000 (gold) per annum. It is to be feared, though, that this company will soon follow the way of the French Cable Company, and consolidate with the existing line.

THE copper mines about Ontonagon, Lake Superior, have a bit of testimony to offer in favor of protection. Two years ago that town was dead and desolate, because an insufficient tariff had shut up the copper mines in the region around it. Congress increased the tariff enough to make it protective, and mark the consequence: Mining is now carried on at the Victoria, National, Norwich, Minnesota, Rockland, Ridge Flint Steel, Evergreen, Adventure, Aztec and Bohemian mines, and in almost every instance with paying results. With these mines in operation and their hundreds of workmen being in receipt of good wages, are able to keep many American farmers and tradesmen busy in supplying them with food and clothing.

MAYOR HALL said he would gladly comply with the request made to him by a number of New York gentlemen, who urged him to call at once a public meeting to raise relief for the sufferers by the great freshet in the Shenandoah and the James. The Chamber of Commerce, meanwhile, will open subscriptions on its own behalf, and it is more than likely that the Stock Exchange will vote a handsome donation. The Philadelphia papers are also urging the people of that city to act promptly and liberally in behalf of Virginia, again desolated. It remains to be seen whether the people of Pittsburgh are ready to do anything in this good work.

THE Universalist Church is happy in one thing at least, a short creed of only three articles. Assent to it essential to membership, and it is the Winchester Confession of Faith, which was promulgated and adopted at a general Convention of the Universalists of the United States, at Winchester, N. H., in 1803; they were subsequently authoritatively recognized in a similar convention held at Baltimore in 1868, and is again, by the nearly united voice of this Convention reaffirmed in the new constitution. It is as follows:

> First. Belief in the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, as containing a revelation of the character of God, and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.
>
> Second. Belief in one God, whose nature is love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to happiness and holiness.
>
> Third. True happiness consists in good works and the maintenance of a pure and upright life.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

Before the drouth ended, a dollar a barrel was the price for water for domestic purposes in Vermont.

John and Peter Smith and John Dove, of Andover, Mass., recently offered $35,000 toward building a memorial hall in that place, on condition that the town would raise $15,000. The town committee, however, have decided that the required sum can be raised only by taxation, and the three givers are, therefore, with Yankee cuteness, to pay a tax of about $2,000, in order that the town may receive their gift.

Eighty-one vessels of the lumber trade are tied up in Chicago because their owners want advanced rates of freight, which the lumbermen refuse to pay.

A New London weekly paper called the Free West, devotes its sixteen three-columned pages to full and reliable information on the United States and Canadas, and advice to those desirous of emigrating. It promises to explain how to get a free home and employment at good wages, and will make known to laborers, mechanics, artists and professional men where they are most wanted in the different parts of the American continent. One of its numerous articles on these subjects—and many of them contain the same instruction—advises the young men to resist the allurements of other places, and journey, turning neither to the right hand nor to the left, to the Mississippi Valley, which it regards, justly enough, the most meriting situation on the continent.

Since the general adoption throughout the country of the postal car system, and the discontinuance of the habit of allowing the United States mails to be handled and placed in the care of persons not officers of the Department, there has been a perceptible decrease in the number of depredations, letter robberies, &c., which were formerly confined almost exclusively to those not connected with the Department. Where they now occur at all, they are limited to officers and employees of the postal service, and such depredations are more easy of detection.

The Lake Superior trade gives business to 124 vessels and steamboats.

Red River advices are that Goulet, who was murdered by the Canadian volunteers for supposed sympathy with Reil, was an American citizen. Threats were made against the American Vice Consul for recovering the body, and causing an examination and proper burial. The Dr. Schultz party threaten to drive out American citizens, the Hudson Bay Company, and Governor Archibald, who are unfavorable to their schemes. Reil and Donohue are in the neighborhood of Pembina and St. Joe.

The indebtedness to the State, on account of which certain Tennessee railroads are to be sold November 3d, is $16,277,825. The recent advance noticed in the prices of the bonds of Tennessee is attributed to purchases of parties who purpose bidding for the railway franchises in the above named roads, which will be offered for sale on the day named, and for any amount of purchase State bonds and interest will be accepted at par.

A few days ago a genteel chap called upon many of the leading Washington physicians, and claiming to be about to undergo examination to be an army surgeon, asked the loan of some of their more valuable medical works to "brush up a little, you know." The next they knew of the tall stranger, he was in the lock-up, and the police were recovering many valuable works from pawnbrokers.

The New York Produce Exchange was open during Farragut's funeral, but some of the leading houses were so indignant at this want of respect for the heroic dead, that they refused to open their samples.

The Bremen steamer Frankfort left her dock at Hoboken, Friday, with a full cargo, and dropped down the bay, passing within a short distance of the French gunboats off the battery. No notice was taken of her by the men-of-war, and the German vessel was soon safe outside Sandy Hook. No other steamer of the line will be dispatched until information is received by the agents here of the safe arrival of the Frankfort. There are no passengers on the latter.

A Washington dispatch says that Mr. Cox enjoys the confidence of the President, and should he retire from the Cabinet it will be by choice and not compulsion.

Yerger, who shot Colonel Crane, in Mississippi, is free, because the Grand Jury would find no indictment against him, probably because it is no crime there to kill a Yankee.

Professor C. A. Young, of Dartmouth College, succeeded, on Thursday, in photographing one of the protuberances of the sun, a scientific feat often before attempted, but never accomplished. The operation was performed with a telescope, assisted by a spectroscope.

Col. P. R. De Trobriand, Thirteenth United States Infantry, has received a six months' leave of absence, with permission to go beyond the sea.

STATE POLITICS.

John B. Warfel, the Democratic nominee for Sheriff in Blair county, has withdrawn from the canvass.

The trouble in the Senatorial district composed of Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties, has been terminated by the withdrawal of Mr. Wm. A. Yeakle, of Montgomery county. This makes the election of Hon. Henry S. Evans certain.

W. H. Abbott is the Republican candidate for Assembly in the counties of Montour and Columbia.

Hon. Wm. Davis of Stroudsburg, has been nominated by the conferees of the Eleventh district of Pennsylvania as the Republican candidate for Congress.

The Republicans of Montour county have nominated Edward J. Beyer, of Valley township, as their candidate for Sheriff.

The Lebanon Courier speaks confidently of the Republicans carrying that Congressional district. It is the most doubtful one in the State.

The Democratic conference of the Fourteenth Congressional District met at Sunbury on Wednesday. On motion, J. E. Eichholtz was selected as chairman of the conference, and Geo. McEllree, Esq., secretary. After the withdrawal of all the county nominees who had received complimentary nominations, E. Greenough Scott, Esq., was nominated as the Democratic candidate for the Forty-second Congress by acclamation.

Cuba's Reply to Spain.

When the Spanish authorities proposed to the New York Cuban Junta to assure unconditional peace to the island, on condition that the revolutionists ask for an autonomy, "which shall be granted," similar to that of Canada, the patriots replied that nothing short of entire freedom from Spain can secure any liberty for Cuba, and that there is no possibility of any agreement, the basis of which shall not be the independence of the island; that such a proposition is a sarcasm, since the Spanish government cannot recognize any right to the Cubans, as long as it preserves in the island its ruinous system, and it knows that when the Cubans shall have the management of their own affairs under the Spanish flag, it could not carry to its exchequer the millions it has been drawing annually, nor to continue to overflow the island with officials without conscience, who only come over to Cuba to get rich upon the ruin and degradation of the natives, and to perpetuate the odious regime of their scandalous abuses; that the Spanish government knows the Cubans are abolitionists, while the negro traders and the great majority of the slaveholders are Spaniards, and although the Ministry at Madrid, forced by the American administration, would promulgate the emancipation of the slaves, those men, who now represent Spain in Cuba, would deadly oppose the enforcement of such a measure, and would resist, as they have already resisted, to obey it; that even the submission of the volunteers to the laws proceeding from the peninsula and the apparent good faith of all the Spaniards with respect to their premises of liberalism, would not form a basis on which reasons could be founded to induce the Cubans to lay down their arms, since they have been always deceived by the Spanish Government; that the patriots cannot draw a curtain over the luxury of horror, with which the Spaniards have made war upon the Cubans, nor over the numberless murders committed in cold blood on peaceful citizens, in the solitude of the fields as well as in the center of the towns; in the dead of night as well as in full daylight; that the Cubans cannot forget the transportation of untried men by hundreds to Fernando Po, nor the women violated right before the eyes of their tied husbands, fathers, brothers and sons, nor the infants run through with the points of the bayonets.

Independent Voting.

[From the Philadelphia Telegraph.]

It is evident, from the loose political action in every section of the State, that there will be an uncommon amount of independent voting this year. Party nominations have been growing from bad to worse until there is profound disgust amongst the people for the partisan jugglery that now confessedly controls primary political action. Many thousands who have heretofore yielded to party discipline because of the grave issues involved, will this year strike from their tickets all names known to be unworthy, and thus make their demand for better men in such an imperative manner that riotous conventions and professional political bullies and dependants will be compelled to give way to the preferences of the people.

No citizen of either party should for a moment hesitate to strike from his ticket the name of a corrupt or incompetent candidate, and if the better class of Republicans and Democrats will now faithfully discharge this duty, our jobbing legislators and "rings" of all kinds will cease to disgrace our city and State.

THE Philadelphia North American continues to fight the good fight of advocating the building of iron vessels in the United States. In its latest article upon the subject it says: "For a considerable period this American iron ship-building interest was kept down by the constant assumption that it was impossible for us to compete with the English. But it is now settled that American iron vessels are built of better iron than the English, and will stand more wear and tear, and that the cheapness of the iron vessels produced on the Clyde and Mersey is reached in exactly the same manner as is the cheapness of English rails—by using the refuse of the iron works. If the English rails proved so dangerous and unreliable, what shall be said of English iron vessels built of the same materials? We ask no drawbacks on materials, and are opposed to all such contrivance to stimulate the importation of inferior English iron. Our task is to rebuild first our domestic marine in the coasting and internal trade. It is to the interest of Philadelphia and all her tributary regions that no more wooden vessels should be built here. Iron is the only proper material. That is now proven by experience. Iron vessels are lighter, of greater capacity, and less displacement. They last much longer than wooden craft, and can carry freight cheaper and at less cost of insurance. To passengers they afford a degree of safety impossible in wooden steamers. Especially is the peril of fire very greatly reduced. American public sentiment is now everywhere fast settling down on this basis, and all are confidently looking for iron vessels to supersede wooden ones.

PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENCE.

Politics in Philadelphia—Cameron and Forney—Brewster, Lowry, Scott and Purviance—Ingratitude of Nations.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, October 4, 1870.

The seed sown in Allegheny county by the "True Republicans" is producing good fruit and much of it. Our Republican journals here are all beginning to cry out against "rings," corruption and bad nominations. The leaven is spreading, and it will leaven the whole lump. Philadelphia is slow to act, but powerful when aroused. Covode has been trying to keep the "ring" in the back ground, and on Friday last he sent Cameron word that he had better stay away from Saturday evening's meeting, and old Winnebago did not put in an appearance. The people are tired of these corrupt, selfish, worn-out leaders, and they must retire, or the party will. It is said here that the "regulars" of your city have sent Colonel Forney word to come out and bring General Cameron along—that things are all unfixed out there and these worthies are needed to instruct you what must be done. Report says that Cameron is opposed to going—that he thinks his presence would do harm, but that Forney wants to go and take his son to show him the town. He is getting a million copies of his Press article on Cameron as a Senatorial candidate—published in the Press of January 1867, republished for gratuitous distribution in Pittsburgh. Cameron thinks this will do much to show your readers that you do him injustice. Forney wanted Benjamin H. Brewster to give him a line to you stating that you were mistaken—as Cameron secured Brewster the position of Attorney General from Gov. Geary, when he was first elected—but Brewster told Forney he wanted nothing to do with either him or Cameron—that they were both frauds. Only think what change four years, or less, has made in the feelings among our leaders! Then B. H. Brewster and M. B. Lowry were the right and left bower of Cameron. No man in the State so well, long and faithfully served him as Lowry. Cameron had hardly been elected Senator until he turned his back on Morrw B., and when the latter was stricken by disease at Harrisburg, the great statesman (who always "stands by his friends,") would not go near him for fear of catching the disease. He said that Lowry was worn out and ought to peg off. Brewster too, who served him zealously many years, he turned his back on, because he was too ambitious, and this day the love Benjamin bears the sainted Senator is loud and clear. You know it was Cameron and Lowry got Benjamin H. Brewster appointed Attorney General. It was in this way: On the 24th of December, 1866, the two met at Harrisburg and went in the morning train to New Cumberland to see the Governor elect, where he then lived. Cameron's slate was B. H Brewster, for Attorney General; the beautiful Henry C. Johnston, of Crawford county, for Secretary of State, and honest Jack Hiestand, of Lancaster, for Deputy Secretary. He told Geary he had elected him and wanted these appointments in his interest for the Senate. Lowry was washed clean, had on a newly done up ruffled shirt, was in good company, felt merry, and was enthusiastic for his friend, the "glorious Ben. Brewster." Geary was disposed to be thoughtful and reticent, and, while acknowledging the services of his visitors, thought their demands too exacting. He told them he had settled on Secretary of State and could not grant their request as to that—and that he did not take to their suggestion of an Attorney General. Cameron begged and Lowry stormed. The Governor proposed the "other Brewster"—the present Attorney General. The sage of Lochiel waxed wrathy at this suggestion. He said it would be a personal insult to him—that Carroll was the sworn friend of Curtin and the bosom companion of Bill Mann. The Governor then named John Scott, of Huntingdon, which met with curses loud and deep from both Cameron and Lowry. The former said Scott was a whitewasher for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company—that he had made a bad record in the House at Harrisburg in the winter of 1862, and was too intimate with Tom—of Philadelphia—because, too, he was in with Curtin and his county was strongly that way. The Governor then suggested Samuel Purviance, of Pittsburgh, as a worthy man, and one who was the friend of Cameron, and a good friend of his own; but Cameron said he was the weakest of the three, had no nerve, and was vain as a peacock. So Geary yielded to a part of the demand, and Benjamin H. Brewster became Attorney General. Less than forty-eight months have gone since then, and Cameron rejoices in the complete overthrow of his right and left bower in the trying times of the winter of 1867. A little fickle for the man who always "stands by his friends." but such are the tactics of the leader of the "Ring." More again. INDEPENDENT.

THE SOUTH SIDE BRIDGE.

Letter from Hon. Joseph Walton.

The following letter from Hon. Joseph Walton, in reply to a note addressed to him by A. M. McCarthy, Esq., will explain itself:

PITTSBURGH, October 5, 1870.

Mr. A. M. MCCARTHY—Dear Sir: Your letter of the 4th inst, asking for my views in regard to the projected bridge over the Ohio, from Pittsburgh to the South Side, caused me some surprise, as I had publicly expressed my views and convictions on this matter, in a speech delivered in Temperanceville during this campaign, and which was published in full in the daily papers at that time. This, of course, led me to believe that all interested were made fully conversant with my views in the matter, and that the false impressions of my antipathy to the project had been fully disabused from the minds of the people. But if there are any who are still uninformed in the matter, I am always ready and willing to enlighten them, and to reassert my views and place myself properly before the eyes of the people. It has been charged that I was opposed to the bridge in question. This is not only false, but it is inconsistent, as I was one of the original incorporators of the company, and it is unreasonable to suppose I would be such and opposed to its passage. No, sir; I was one of its firm supporters, and always shall be in favor of this or any other needed structure that is conducive to the welfare of the people, and that does not materially obstruct the navigation of our rivers; and from the provisions of this bill I am satisfied it would not in the least interfere with that important element in the prosperity of this great community. But you, as well as all in the community who are in the least conversant with my public career, are well aware of my bitter opposition to all bridges that obstruct or interfere with the successful navigation of our rivers, such as the stone-piles erected at Parkersburg, Bellair, and other points on the lower Ohio. And it may possibly be, in view of my course in these particular cases, that has caused the assumption on the part of the uninformed public that I am antagonistic to the bridge referred to. Hoping this explanation may prove satisfactory, I remain, yours, respectfully,

JOS. WALTON.

P. S.—To convince you of my fealty to the project, I will take $20,000 worth of stock in the company. J. W.

TOSSING UP FOR A REVELATION.

The Way John A. Scott Got His Nomination for Commissioner.

To the Editor of the Commercial:

Can you inform the many readers of the COMMERCIAL if John A. Scott, the candidate for Commissioner on the "Ring ticket," had an inspiration suddenly sent to him from above that he should be the candidate for the above office? Rumor states that he asserts that he had such, and it occurred in this way. While he was reading his Bible it came to him. He then took up a newspaper—perhaps the "oldest," and no doubt was much encouraged by reading it. He however tried to banish it from his mind but could not. The next morning he resolved to settle the matter with Providence, took a penny and tossed it the best out of three. He called head and so it came. He did not toss again until night' perhaps he was doubtful of the result. However, up went the penny and the astute John won. He then wrote two notices, one for the "oldest," the other for the Dispatch—calling on him to be a candidate and signed "many citizens." He is possessed of considerable amount of modesty in issuing cards and stating that many citizens desired him to be a candidate. Rumor also states he was called on by our worthy Sheriff and Senator Graham, who volunteered their assistance in manipulating the wires in which they were successful. Will you inform your readers if W. A. Shaw, the candidate on the Reform ticket, procured his nomination in the same way—by reading his Bible, then taking a friendly toss up with Providence. If he has done so, I am prepared to scratch him on Tuesday next. But I know he did not.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, October 5, 1870.

Money seemed to be more plentiful with the scount houses to-day. Good paper is scarce, cept when it finds takers at 9 per cent. per num. There are many persons who have oney to put out, and really prefer good comercial paper, but expect the borrower to pay om 10 to 12 per cent. High rates of discount d good paper don't agree. If outside parties ere more moderate in their rates for money ey could get plenty of unexceptionable paer, which would render many borrowers ore independent of the banks at a time when is necessary for them to curtail their disunt lines.

—The Herald says the Treasury programme as not to the taste of most of the speculators the Gold Room, for it failed to gratify the pectation of a larger sale of gold. In this oint it disappointed the "bears." On the other hand, the "bulls," who were encouraged to y early in the morning, found the precious etal unaccountably weak, and hence the day sed with a display of considerable ill-humor both "bulls" and "bears." It will have been oticed by our Washington dispatches that e Secretary of the Treasury is making ready redeem the five per cents of 1871, and has sued instructions for the payment of such nds as may be presented before nuary 1st, provided the holders mit to a rebate at the rate of six per cent. per annum. The loan was created by an act of Congress, passed June 22, 1860, authorizing the President to issue bonds, at a t higher rate than six per cent., to the extent of $21,000,000, redeemable in ten and payable in twenty years after January 1, 1881. The bt was incurred for the purpose of retiring e old issue of Treasury notes, as circumstances favored a lower rate than six per nt., was offered to the public at only five per nt. The bonds were quite generally subscribed for. The bidders were required to submit certified checks for five per cent. of the ount they offered to take. It so happened at pending the awards the troubles with uth Carolina commenced; that State seceded, d the rupture of the Union seemed inevitable. Under these circumstances many of the pitalists who had bidden for the new loan crificed their five per cent. deposit, and of e $21,000,000 offered only $7,022,000 was paid . It was at this amount which Mr. Boutwell invites redeeming at the end of this year or before the 1st of January next. As the bonds were issued before the sue of legal tenders they will be redeemed at r in coin. Their market value has been par coin for some time past, their price having adually advanced to that point after the upreme Court decision as to the medium of demption enforceable in all obligations entered into before the passage of the Legal ender act.

—Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co. report the following quotations of Government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay ooke & Co., their correspondents:

—The New York Tribune says: Attention eems to have been somewhat diverted from ailway stocks to those called "miscellaneous," and the most active movements have been developed in them. Among others, we notice he Western Union, Union Pacific, and several f the express stocks. This new feature of the market is no doubt the result of clique operations in railway shares, which, having concentrated in a few hands, stagnate the market for a time, and leave the purchasers n undisturbed possession of their property. While operators in the street know that an avalanche of shares may at any time be precipitated upon them, they hesitate to uy, even if the stocks themselves seem to be cheap. The Northwestern, Rock Island, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Lake Shore, Ohio and Mississippi and others have all but run out of the market, and are avoided by speculators. If the holders of these stocks are content to monopolize them so that no one can complain, for they are the only persons injured by the loss of a market. Stockholders feel, however, that business suffers in consequence of these great accumulations in the hands of a few bold operators, and naturally oppose such movements.

The following table, made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway Stocks, Gold, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Stock Exchange during the day:

—The Financial Chronicle cites a striking instance of the mode in which capitalists, or hose reputed to be such, may obtain three imes of capital not their own, and draw three nterests on it without incurring any risk whatever. A foreign exchange firm in good credit draws its bills at sixty days for one million, and sells them in New York for gold. They will produce at current rates $1,095,000 in gold. The broker next lends out this coin at ⅛ per cent., in exchange for currency. Finally, he lends the currency at 7 per cent., and if the two last loans may be called in at the end of fifty-nine days, he has no need to invest any capital whatever in meeting the original bills, as the proceeds of he loans will meet them, and leave him a handsome profit of 12½ per cent. per annum besides. While the foreign house makes a display of three times the capital involved in the transaction, viz: that in the bills, then in the gold, then in the currency, and, finally, perhaps, the notes taken for the currency, in reality it has employed no capital in the transaction—only its credit. In our scientific structures with which the older communities impose their credit on the newer, so that we reap a large harvest on their credit merely, lies one of the most singular anomalies of finance.

—The gold interest on the public debt due November 1st, amounts to $25,126,279. The various Assistant Treasurers of the United States are authorized to anticipate the payment of interest for sixty days, upon a rebate of interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum. Although holders of bonds as a rule do not care to avail themselves of the rebate of interest, yet should cash gold command a sufficient premium they will use this means of relief.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS

OFFICE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY, October 4, 1870.

REMARKS—We can expect a fair trade demand for the leading articles, with a steady increase. The principle houses appear well satisfied with the situation of affairs generally, orders are coming in fairly, and all that is wanting to make things very lively, is a coal boat stage. This would also cause the departure of the several freight and passenger boats at the landing, that have been anxiously awaiting the movement of the waters. There has been a large accumulation of manufactured articles awaiting shipment, which we don't think will be detained much longer.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY, October 5, 1870.

REMARKS—The run of cattle, sheep, and hogs for the past three days was not heavy, though the character of the stock was rather better. Previous prices were not maintained except for strictly prime. Dealers are of the opinion that lower rates must rule, and hence take hold sparingly, and do not purchase more than will barely suffice to meet the wants of the trade. Sellers think differently; hence there is a wide margin in their views. Without vouching for the exactness of the following quotations, we give them as the nearest approximation to be had, and the reader is referred to the sales given below for further information.

THAT EAST LIBERTY BANK—What are the stock dealers doing with regard to the proposed bank in East Liberty? From the east, west, northwest, and even far south, the question is asked, how long will it be before there is a good, reliable banking house at the cattle yards, where stock dealers can transact business without the risk of closed banks and departed trains in the city. As a matter of accommodation to the heavy business interests in the vicinity of the cattle yards, the establishment of a large, solid bank, seems to be imperatively required. Push it along. The sooner it is in operation, the sooner the stock holders will make money, and the general public be accommodated.

THE STOCK MARKET

At the close was a fraction off from the highest point reached during the day. Business was on a more liberal scale than of late, although not yet large. The chief features among railways were Reading, Lake Shore, Northwestern preferred and New York Central. Of these Reading was the favorite and absorbed a large portion of the speculative interest. The general hope is indulged that the present movement in railways, slight as it is, may prove the forerunner of increased activity and animation.

Monongahela metal marks five feet and falling.

THE marks last evening indicated five feet and falling slowly. The prospect for a coal boat rise is not very flattering.

THE Louisville Mail Company have offered to charter the Thirteenth Era at $7,500 per day.

THE fine little packet Trader, Captain Reno, is announced for Wheeling and way points this day at 12 M.

TRADE in the slack-water continues is brisk. The receipts were liberal and sales were of a similar description.

NEW ALBANY, IND., October 5.—River declining, with 33 inches on Portland bar. The weather is clear in part. A private dispatch from Owensboro this afternoon reports that the Rose Hite turned back from French Island, being unable to find but 26 inches water there. Several outside bars hence to Evansville have only 30 inches. The Lorena was aground ten hours at Haunted House Saturday night. The Emma Floyd is receiving slowly, and will get away this week. Cincinnati freights forwarded from this point by the Anna were loaded on a barge she had in tow.

THE steamers Glendale and Messenger will commence receiving as soon as there is any prospect for their departure.

THE fine tow boat Mary Davage, Captain Motherill, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. Shippers will bear that in mind.

THE fleet packet Belle, Captain Smith, leaves daily for Elizabeth, Monongahela City and Webster at four P. M. Returning, leaves Webster at SIX A. M. for this city. The first clerk is Mr. Scott, a clever and gentlemanly officer.

A MACKINAW craft arrived at St. Louis on the 23d, only twenty five days out from Benton. This is claimed as the best time ever made by a Mackinaw on the Missouri. The crew and passengers had some adventures with Indians and grizzlies.

THE splendid passenger steamer Glendale, Capt. J. M. Hare, is announced for Louisville, Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations, and is in charge of experienced and attentive officers. Capt. James Mellon does the honors in the office, and they are well done.

THE farfamed passenger steamer Messenger, Capt. Thomas Greenlee, an experienced and popular officer, is receiving for Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans, and will leave on the first rise. The first clerk is Mr. John C. Fisher, a gentlemanly and accomplished officer.

THE United States Mail Line boats on the slackwater leave daily at 8 A. M. and 4 P. M. These boats are sidewheelers, were built especially for the trade, and in charge of careful and attentive officers. For further information call on Capt. A. S. Carlile, one of the most attentive and gentlemanly officers to be found.

THE Marietta Register says: The little steamer "Pet," about forty feet long, lately passed out of the Muskingum, on her way to the Kanawha. Built at Brooklyn, N. Y., and came by the way of Hudson River, Erie Canal, Lake Erie, thence from Cleveland through the Ohio Canal to the Muskingum. She has great power for her size, and is to be used as a salt towboat.

THE ANNA.—Captain John A. Williamson telegraphs to Cincinnati that there was a break of fifty feet in her side, and is of the opinion she cannot be raised. She has about 200 tons of merchandise, principally from Cincinnati, the bulk of her cargo being on her barges, which were not injured. The freight in her deck room may be slightly damaged. Her cargo is valued at $45,000 or $50,000, the bulk of which, together with the Anna, is insured in Cincinnati offices. She was bound from Portland to Memphis, and had considerale freight for New Orleans, to be reshipped at Cairo. The Anna was valued at $13,000, and insured for $10,000 in the following Cincinnati offices: American, Farmers' and Enterprise State, $2,500 each, and the Crescent $3,200. Her custom house measurement was 380 16-100 tons.

THE New Albany Ledger contains the following in reference to the progress of the work on the new canal:

"Having occasion to visit Louisville a few days since, we took a short survey of the work on the canal enlargement. Under the superintendence of Gen. Weitzel, the contractors have a large force engaged, and it is progressing as rapidly and favorably as the nature of the work will permit. The undertaking is one of greater magnitude than one would suppose, without first examining the conditions. The entire length of the enlargement has for a bottom solid rock, some ten or twelve feet in thickness, which can only be removed by the ordinary process of drilling and blasting, and before this can be accomplished a large amount of earth has to be removed, and the old side walls of the canal taken down. At the head of the canal is progressing satisfactorily, and it is propable that that portion above the old upper canal bridge will be done in a short time. Messrs. Cook & Co., the contractors on the lower section, have yet to excavate, between the lower lock and the outlet, solid rock one hundred feet wide, twelve feet thick and two hundred and fifty feet in length, and that of the very hardest quality of limestone. The excavation of rock at the outlet of the canal necessitates the construction of a very heavy dam in the river, below the mouth, in the form of a crescent, to enable the contractors to complete that portion of the work. The lock gates are all yet to be hung, which of itself is work of no inconsiderable magnitude. But with all the energy that General Weitzel and the contractors are pushing the work on this enlargement, we are of the opinion that another favorable season will be required to make the proper excavations in the bed of the canal, and even then the General will have accomplished an immense work. In the hands of an officer of less ability, it is possible three or four years would have elapsed before the work would have been completed, and Western commerce will be largely indebted to the Government for having retained so accomplished an officer on this important work. The public can safely rely upon the wisdom of General W. in opening the canal at as early a day as possible, as he fully comprehends the great necessity of the resumption of navigation through that channel."

A Good Man Has Passed Away.

The remains of Captain Wm. Stone were received yesterday, placed on board the towboat Wm. Stone, and conveyed to McKeesport for interment. The deceased was no ordinary man. He came to this city about twenty-seven years since from South Wales. He was a miner by trade, and soon found employment in the mines bordering on the Monongahela. By hard work and honest industry he soon accumulated sufficient to run coal to the lower ports. Success followed his efforts, until finally he built the "Coal Valley" and "Wm. Stone," and a large number of barges, and for some years past has been engaged successfully in running coal to the lower ports. Among his associates in business he was universally esteemed as an honest man—the very soul of honor, his word at all times being considered equal to his bond. "If Wm. Stone said so, it was all right."

In July last, not being in very good health, he decided to visit his native place, and on the 23d of July sailed from New York in the City of Washington. He arrived at the old homestead in Tanby, South Wales, early in August. About the 28th of that month he was taken ill, and on the 31st breathed his last, sincerely mourned by his friends and all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. His body was embalmed, and arrived in New York on Monday evening, in the City of Paris. The Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday brought his remains to this city. They were conveyed on board the "Wm. Stone," his pet boat, and taken to McKeesport. The funeral will probably take place on Sunday, and his remains will be followed to the place appointed for the last resting place of all. Truly, "in the midst of life we are in death." When the clods of the valley are heaped in the grave of Captain Stone, it can truly be said, "Here lies an honest man; the noblest work of God."

STATE NEWS.

Deer hunting is said to be good in Perry county.

Ridgeway, the county seat of Elk county, has a population of 815.

It takes two millions tons of coal a year to supply Philadelphia.

The people of Germantown are still suffering from the scarcity of water.

Jacob Strauss, of Titusville, has forty relatives in King William's army.

A valuable deposit of iron ore has been discovered near Wilmore, Cambria county.

Mr. L. Davis, editor of the Easton Daily Express, died on Monday.

The stock necessary to the establishment of a line of omnibusses in Chester has been subscribed.

There are now four hundred and forty patients at the State Lunatic Hospital, Harrisburg.

The building improvements of Titusville since the first of March show an aggregate expenditure of $1,625,900.

The Grand Division Sons of temperance will hold a special session in Columbia on Friday, October 7.

Mrs. Barr, aged more than eighty years, fell fell from a window at her residence in Danville, on Tuesday night of last week, and was instantly killed.

A new Methodist Episcopal church is to be dedicated at Girard, Erie county, on Wednesday next. Bishop Simpson will preach the sermon.

On Sunday morning, Captain Thomas Wilkins, Collector of the Port of Erie, for fifty years a resident there, and formerly a favorite sailing master on the lakes, died at the old age of seventy-seven years, after a short illness. It is a singular coincidence that the last business he did was with General Reed, with whose father, fifty years ago, he made his first business engagement in Erie.

Two or three cross-suits of assault and battery will be necessary to settle a barberous affair in Erie, wherein two colored men tried to shave off each other's noses and chins with razors.

There is likely to be a several-angled fight about the location of the Erie city hall. The Park House lot is considered by many too out of the way a corner for so pretentious a building. Among the down-town localities proposed, some favor using the West Park for the purpose, and others, either the purchase by the city, or the appraisement by jury of the old "Reed lot" on South Park row, facing the East Park and principal hotels.

A yellow raspberry bush on the farm of Mr. J. G. Patterson, in Summerhill township, Crawford county, has made a growth this season of twenty feet four inches. "How is that for high?"

Referring to a rumor that the McCray farm, Titusville, sold for one million dollars cash, the Herald says that the average daily yield of this farm during the month of August was 1,659 barrels, of which fully one thousand barrels per day belonged to the fortunate owner as royalty, or individual production, which is a neat daily income at the ruling price of $3 25 per barrel.

Mr. W. H. Abbott, a prominent citizen of Titusville, while riding on horseback on Saturday, had his left thigh bone fractured by his horse slipping and falling upon him.

J. H. Baker, Esq., the oldest member of the Titusville bar, died on Sunday, of injuries received in an accident on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad near Union Mills, in June, 1868.

Lancaster and Reading have been luxuriating in a hotel thief, one John Miller, who has at last got into prison.

The Susquehanna Rolling Mill, Columbia, is running full, employing one hundred and eighty men. Business with the company is exceedingly brisk. Col. Wm. G. Case has purchased the Columbia Rolling Mill and taken possession.

The Susquehanna was lower at Columbia on Wednesday, September 28, than it has been for twenty years. The water fell eight inches on Monday night.

A few evenings ago, while Mr. R. P. Spencer, of Strasburg, was returning from Lancaster city, he was overtaken by a span of horses coming down the pike at full run with nothing but a yoke to them; as Mr. Spencer thought it was a party on horseback he drove very leisurely, keeping the middle track, when they dashed into his wagon, throwing him upon the ground some twenty feet; and breaking the buggy to pieces. As soon as Mr. Spencer was able, he arose, found both horses fast in the broken fragments of the buggy, his animal standing perfectly quiet, with one of the shafts upon her neck, the other under her body.

The Dickinson College Sophomores have adopted the regular navy cap, with the figures "73" encircled in a silver wreath on its front, for a class cap.

At Pottsville, a widow lady gave her age as forty years, to the enumerator. A few days later he called on her son in another part of the district, and he gave his age as forty-five years.

Sunbury, with 3,200 population, has 900 voters, or one in three and a half, an extraordinary proportion.

Mrs. William Savage, of Turbotville, is another to exchange a coal-oil lamp for a coffin. But at Milroy, the "entire safety" of non-explosive oil has been tested in the severe burning of John Struck and the untimely decease of Harry Hoopes, aged seventeen. Morris Hagedom also testifies, with his burned body, that coal-oil lamps will explode.

The Philadelphia Grand Jury acted upon 563 bills, and returned 354 as true bills, and have ignored 209 bills. Of this large number the majority were for larceny and assault and battery.

The North Pennsylvania Railroad Company has just completed a survey for an extension of their line from Bethlehem through Northampton to Portland, on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad.

One day recently a wild-cat entered the house of Elliott Walters, in Knox township, Clarion county, during the temporary absence of Mr. Walters and his wife, and took a little child from its cradle. But for the timely arrival of a member of the family, the babe would doubtless have been killed and devoured by the savage beast.

Allentown claims an old gentleman by the name of Henry Engelman, who is in his 95th year, and at the last election cast his 73d vote. Very few men now living can beat that.

The first annual Fair of the Lake Shore Grape Growers' Association will be held at North East on Thursday and Friday, October 13th and 14th, 1870, in the Lake Shore Seminary buildings.

A son of David Koons, aged about six years, residing near Turbotsville, Lycoming county, was killed on Saturday afternoon last by a young colt jumping over a fence, and, breaking a rail, forced a piece forward, which, striking the boy on the head, inflicted a wound which caused death.

It is stated that a prominent lawyer of Wilkesbarre has made an estimate that the annual expenditure in Luzerne county—the Democratic stronghold—for intoxicating beverages reaches the enormous sum of three million dollars in greenbacks.

Among the litigants in the Erie county courts are Jay Gould and Jim Fisk. Horace Greeley is plaintiff, in a land case to be tried at this term.

In Tairview township, York county, Monday afternoon, Theodore Orris was seated at a table engaged in withdrawing some cartridges from his revolver, when from some cause the weapon was discharged, the ball entering the throat of his brother Henry obliquely, lodging somewhere about the cervical vertebra. The wound is a ghastly one, and the unfortunate young man is in a very critical condition.

Michael Edwards, aged 103 years, accompanied by his son, passed through Harrisburg to York, the place of his nativity, on Sunday last. He left that borough in 1801, and has not been there since. He visits the place by invitation of the citizens. He remembers having seen a cavalry fight in the streets of York during the Revolutionary war. The old gentleman is in the possession of good health and a reasonably vigorous intellect.

A pine tree was recently cut in Hebron township, Potter county, which showed the marks of a sharp instrument at the heart. On counting the concentric circles it was found to have been thirty-nine years old when the cutting was done, and two hundred and thirty-seven when finally cut down. This would make it two hundred and seventy-six years old. A venerable old monarch indeed. Who did the cutting?

Hon. Thomas Hughes, member of the English Parliament, visited the Gettysburg battlefield last week.

The Daily Courier, the new Democratic paper at Titusville, made its appearance on Saturday last. J. D. Henry, its editor, is a journalist of long experience, and can make a paper of that character succeed in Titusville if it is possible for any man to do so. In general appearance the Courier is very neat, and its contents display considerable care and labor.

An American eagle, measuring seven feet from tip to tip of wings, and weighing sixteen pounds, was shot near Evansburgh, Butler coutuy, the other day. It can be seen at the drug store of Dr. Kersting, in Evansburgh.

The first number of the State Journal, the successor of the Daily Topic at Harrisburg, made its appearance on Monday morning. The State Journal will be conducted by Mr. J. R. Sypher, a talented and experienced journalist; and if the course foreshadowed in its prospectus be followed out, it will supply a want long felt at the State Capital. Any of our readers desiring news from Harrisburg should patronize the Journal. It contains twenty-eight columns of matter, printed on good paper and from clear type. It has our best wishes for its success.

Captain Leitch, of the Inman steamship City of Antwerp, made the following report at Halifax: On October 1st, at six o'clock A. M., latitude 43° 50', and longitude 47° 50', was boarded by the boat of the French screw steamer Saint Laurent, which vessel broke the cogs of her driving wheel on the 30th of September at eleven o'clock A. M. They expected to repair and proceed in two days from the time of boarding the City of Antwerp. The Saint Laurent will therefore be due in New York October 7.

Ritualism in New York.

The Church Journal, which, so far as the claims of the church are concerned, has always been High Church, is very severe on the proceedings at the consecration of St. Sacrament Mission. It publishes three letters from high churchmen, attacking the innovations, and proceeds at length to give its own criticisms. It says that Bishop Potter gave his letter of sanction when it was understood that the service was for the slums of the population; but that now Father Bradley has established a mission at the corner of Broadway and Thirty-fourth street, where this class of people do not reside. It says that Trinity church is not compromised in this movement, although some of its ministers accepted invitations to preach there; and that the choir of Trinity was not present, those of its members who took part in the musical performance doing so individually on their own responsibility. The Episcopalian says that Dr. Dix was anxious, as were the choir, that all the men and boys composing it should be present; but when Thursday came, Dr. Vinton sent a peremptory order forbidding the choir to go. Dr. Vinton is assistant rector and thus subordinate to the rector, Dr. Dix; but the laymen in Trinity Church are said to support Dr. Vinton, and to wish no further experiments in advanced ritualism, nor to be allied with such men as Morrill, Ewer and Bradley. The Church Journal quotes Father Bradley's circular in which he disavows extreme ritualism, and then, item by item, quotes the report of his services, asking, if this is not ritualism what is? It insists that the "Sarum use" has no place here, but the usage of the "Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States;" and finally it attacks Father Bradley's doctrine of the divine presence in the eucharist.

Amid all the political agitation by which Spain is travailing in the formation of a permanent and surely a republican government, her people are steadily progressing in religious liberty. A prominent question before the Cortes at their coming session will be the repeal of the only article of the constitution which serves as a connection between church and state, and besides this, Protestantism steadily gains ground. It is reported that already forty ecclesiastics have given in their adhesion to an important movement which has commenced among a considerable number of priests, who seek to form an ecclesiastical organization on a liberal basis. They propose to constitute a free national Spanish church, holding the Scriptures, the Apostles' Creed, and the Nicene and Athanasian Creeds. The discipline of the church is to be carried on by a council of twelve presbyters and one president, and to be elected by a general assembly. Whenever two hundred presbyters are convened they are to join a general assembly, by which a council will be elected, and the arrangement made for provincial assemblies or synods. Towns, etc., to elect their own ministers, who shall have been previously approved by the council. No charge to be made for the offices of the church. No salary to be accepted from the state. The ministers of the church to be on a social level with the members of their flocks, and to be considered as guiding brothers, not priests.

A Seducer Arrested.—Shortly before one o'clock this morning Martin Rugan was arrested in "Hardscrabble" for attempting to induce a young girl, aged fifteen years, into a dark alley with criminal intent, and conveyed to the lock-up. He will have a hearing this morning.

Daring Assault.—Tuesday night between ten and eleven o'clock, as Mr. Crawford was on his way home, in passing Turners' Hall, Sixth avenue, was assaulted by two men who attempted to drag him into an alley near by. It is supposed the men intended relieving him of a handsome diamond pin he wore, but he drew his revolver on his assailants and they fled.

Another Insane Person.—A demented colored woman named Ella Burns was found wandering around the Diamond yesterday afternoon, and taken to the Mayor's office. She has been arrested a number of times for acting strangely on the street. She will be taken this morning to the home of her parents in Temperanceville.

Attempted Suicide.—Chas. Ford, arrested and placed in the Twelfth ward station house for drunkenness and disorderly conduct on Tuesday night, attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself to the cell bars by a suspender. The official in charge of the lock-up discovered him and had him removed to the Central Station. Yesterday he was let off on the payment of a nominal fine.

Caught Between the Bumpers.—Yesterday morning, a brakeman named Andrew Welsh, was caught between the bumpers while coupling cars on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad near the Fifth ward market house, and had his collar bone broken and shoulder blade dislocated, and sustained some slight bruises. The unfortunate man was removed to his home near by, and Dr. Duncan called to attend to his injuries.

Home Again.—Mr. John Routh, the veteran conductor of the Wall's Accommodation train, who had been absent in the west about ten days, returned home on Tuesday, and again took charge of his train. He went as far west as Colorado, and was delighted with his trip. He was warmly welcomed on his return, by the numerous patrons of his train, who never feel so comfortable as when he is on hand to demand their "t-i-c-k-e-t-s."

We have instruments on hand at $25, $50, $75, $100, $125, $150, $175, $200, $225, $250. We will also rent any of them, and allow the rent to apply as purchase money. This is an excellent chance to get a piano or organ at a low price and on easy terms. Mellor & Hoene, No. 53 Fifth avenue, next door below Masonic Hall.

Oakland Park Trotting Meeting.—Our citizens will have an opportunity, on the 12th, 13th and 14th of the present month, to witness some fine exhibitions of speed, as the fall meeting of the Oakland Park Driving Association will be held on those days. Liberal premiums are offered, and some of the fastest stock in Western Pennsylvania and Ohio will be here, and no doubt splendid time will be made. The managers, we are assured, will leave nothing undone to make the affair pleasant and successful.

The Fair at City Hall.—The bazaar of the ladies of this city in behalf of that excellent charity, the Home for Aged Women, enjoyed prosperity yesterday and last evening. Those who attend once fully realize the beauties and pleasures to be found here, and make opportunities to repeat their visits. It is certain that there will be another crowded house to-night to enjoy the beautiful tableaux and music which have been prepared as the special attraction. At any rate, if a body wants to see a body the City Hall to-night will be the place to go and meet them, for everybody will be there.

Fire in City Hall.—Last evening, about eight o'clock, when Mr. Marshall, janitor at City Hall, entered the committee room, which is also the office of the Street Commissioner and the Clerks of Councils, he discovered that the waste-basket, which had been full of paper, was on fire. He promptly got a bucket, and the hydrant being close at hand he soon succeeded in extinguishing the fire. The floor was considerably burned, and also one of the desks. Had it not been for the prompt discovery of the fire, City Hall to-day might have been a mass of ruins. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed that some person had lit a cigar and threw the lighted paper into the basket.

Installation Exercises.

On to-morrow (Friday) evening, at seven o'clock, Rev. J. S. Stuchell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Hazelwood, Twenty-third ward, will be duly installed. D., pastor of the Second Church, will deliver the charge to the people. Rev. Stuchell has been in charge of this church for several months past, and we are pleased to state that his ministrations are proving quite successful. The exercises will commence at precisely seven o'clock.

AQUATIC.

The American Championship—Coulter and Jackson Matched Against Brown and Mckeel—Race to Take Place Here—Stakes $500.

We find in this week's Clipper the following card from Henry Coulter, the Manchester oarsman. It explains itself:

"Friend Queen—Noticing an article in your last issue from Walter Brown, stating that he would row me a single scull race at Springfield, Massachusetts, for the sum of $2,500 a side, I beg leave to answer thus. I will row Walter Brown for $1,000 a side, open for $1,500, the race to come off near Pittsburgh in the last week of October, providing a deposit of money is left in the hands of a responsible banker of this city. My reason for asking this is that the money may not be withdrawn, as it was on the previous occasion. Also, that the appointing of a referee is left with gentlemen of unquestionable honesty, like those of the Pittsburgh Barge Club, Mr. Brown being as familiar with them as myself. I will give the same amount for expenses as he offered me in his card. In this connection I will state that the challenge issued for a double scull race to Gordon Jackson and myself by Mr. Brown and Mr. Mekeel, for $500 a side, is accepted. This race is to be rowed upon the same course, and governed by the same regulations as the single scull race; also allowing them expenses. I do sincerely hope that if these challenges are accepted the races will be fair and honorable ones. I give my word that I will try all in my power to make them so. I trust Mr. Brown will not quibble over the matter, but send me articles for the race at once, and I will not delay in signing them. Yours most truly,
HENRY COULTER."

Pittsburgh, September 25.

In commenting on Coulter's card, the Clipper says: "In this week's issue appears a communication from Henry Coulter, offering to row Walter Brown at Pittsburgh, and to match himself and Gordon Jackson against Brown and Mekeel upon like conditions. From the fact that Brown has asserted repeatedly that he would not again row in that vicinity, we were led to suppose that a match upon the terms stated was not likely to be made, but we are pleased to be able to announce that we were mistaken, as on the 3d inst. we received a telegram from Mr. B. S. Wright, of Boston, in which he says he will match Brown and Mekeel against Coulter and Jackson to row over the upper Monongahela course, at Pittsburgh, for $500 a side. This match may, therefore be regarded as already made, and, such being the case, there is every reason to believe that a single scull race between Brown and Coulter will likewise be arranged."

The challenge issued on behalf of Michael Rush, champion sculler of New South Wales, to row any Englishman on the Thames, has, we learn by Bell's Life, September 21st, been accepted by a backer of Joseph H. Sadler, whom he offers to match for the usual stake of £200 a side, or a larger sum; the race to take place over the champion course—from Putney to Mortlake.

Bacon, Hams, Lard, Beef, Etc.

Dealers in provisions will find an excellent assortment of bacon, hams, dried beef, lard, lard oil, etc., at the warehouse of Mr. Reese Owens, No. 23 Seventh avenue, above Smithfield street. Mr. Owens has long been known to the trade as an experienced and reliable dealer, and his customers can at all times rely on getting a good article at the fairest market rate. He is pushing his business with commendable energy and enterprize, and is determined to offer as favorable inducements to purchasers as can be found at any other establishment. He has now on hand some prime sugar-cured breakfast bacon, dried beef, beef tongues, leaf lard, etc., to which he invites the attention of the public. We can commend this house as every way worthy of patronage, knowing that the business is conducted in the most thorough and satisfactory manner.

Alleged Unprovoked Assault.—M. B. Durkin yesterday afternoon went into a saloon on Smithfield street, near Fourth avenue, procured a drink, and tendered in payment therefor a one hundred dollar bill. The barkeeper said he would go out and see whether it was good before he would change it, but Durkin thought he meant to victimize him by not returning, and refused to allow him to go out. Thereupon a dispute arose, and as Durkin alleges Thomas Murray and James Duffy assaulted and abused him. Informations were made at the Mayor's office, and the accused arrested and held to answer this morning at ten o'clock.

The New Market House.—The members of the Council of Millvale borough held a meeting in the school building, in conjunction with the Market Committee of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth wards, Pittsburgh, for the purpose of deciding on the location of the proposed market house. A resolution was passed that the citizens of Millvale borough would assist in the erection of the market house, and also that the building should be erected on Forty-third street, so as to make it convenient to citizens on both sides of the river.

A New Pavement.—A Philadelphia firm have invented a new method for laying street pavements of wooden blocks. The process consists in first laying a cobble-stone pavement in the usual manner, but of sufficient depth to allow the blocks to obtain the proper grade. The pebble pavement is to be covered with a cement for the purpose of obtaining a smooth surface. The blocks are then to be laid upon the cement as an immovable substratum. This, it is claimed, will secure a lasting pavement, free from repair and the other evils accompanying our now deficient roads.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

TWO INFORMATIONS.

Wm. Lee appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday and preferred two informations against John and Rachel Hartupee, one for keeping a gambling house, and the other for keeping a bawdy house on Webster avenue. The accused were arrested and committed for a hearing.

[Before Alderman Butler.]

A SURETY CASE.

Samuel Bell was charged yesteaday before the above named magistrate, with surety of the peace, Martha Bailey, prosecutrix. The parties reside in Noblestown. The accused was arrested and entered bail for a hearing.

[Before Alderman Thomas.]

STRUCK HIM.

Julia Whitehouse made information yesterday before Alderman Thomas, against Thomas Kerlin for assault and battery, alleging that the defendant struck him and otherwise abused him. The accused entered bail for a hearing.

[Before Alderman Taylor.]

ALLEGED FRAUD.

A man named Samuel Young entered the saloon of John Baker yesterday morning, and, after taking a drink, offered a five dollar note in payment, and received $4 95 in change. The note was on the Bank of Crawford County, in Meadville, which bank has failed some time since. Mr. Baker suspected that the bill was not good, but upon his customer repeatedly asserting that it was good, he took it in payment of the small bill that had been incurred. He afterwards learned that it was not good; hence he preferred a charge of fraud against Young before Alderman Taylor.

[Before Alderman Neubert.]

THE TWO MARY'S.

A quarrel occurred yesterday morning between Mary Miller and Mary Forth, the former charging the latter that she never settled her grocery bills. The quarrel lasted for some time and grew warmer and warmer, and finally resulted in blows. The difficulty occurred on Trumbull street. Mary Miller then repaired to the office of Alderman Neubert, and preferred a charge against the other Mary for assault and battery. The accused was arrested and entered bail for Court.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

THE BERGER EMBEZZLEMENT CASE.

At the opening of Court, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Michael Berger, indicted for embezzlement, was resumed. The charge in this case was that Berger, who was Treasurer of the Lawrenceville Building and Loan Association, had drawn over seven hundred dollars of the funds of the Society, and appropriated it to his own use. A number of witnesses were examined and testified that Berger had drawn the money, and he admitted that he had drawn it, and used it in the payment of his private debts. He not only admitted the taking of the money, but said that he would do so again under like circumstances, as he expected to be able to refund it in a short time. It was proved that about this time, or soon after, Berger became seriously involved, and was subsequently sold out by the Sheriff.

The defense was, that the money was taken because Berger had given a mortgage to the society, and honestly believed that the association would be secured under the mortgage, in case he failed to return the amount. But it was further alleged that Berger had a saw mill in West Virginia, from which he reaped large returns, out of which he hoped and intended to replace the amount drawn, and to liquidate other claims pressing against him; that this enterprise failed through the mismanagement of his partner in the mill, and every dollar was swept away from him; and that, under the circumstances, there was no fraudulent intent, and consequently no criminal offense.

A number of witnesses were called to prove the good character of the defendant for honesty.

The Court charged the jury that the main point in the case was the intention of the defendant at the time he took the money. If he took it with a reasonable certainty that he could replace it, and honestly intended so to do, he would not be guilty; but if he took it at a time when he had no reason to believe that he would be able to replace it, and did not intend to make it good, then he would be guilty in manner and form as indicted. The question of intent must be determined by the jury, from all the facts and circumstances in the case.

The jury retired, and after Court had adjourned they found a verdict, which was placed under seal, and will be returned this morning.

OBSTRUCTING THE ALLEGHENY RIVER—NUISANCE.

Christian Zug and Charles Zug, proprietors of a rolling mill on the bank of the Allegheny river in the old Fifth ward, were arraigned on a charge of maintaining a nuisance, in filling up the channel or bed of the river in front of their mill property. It is alleged, that, from time to time, covering a period of many years, the proprietors have deposited the cinders or "slag" from their mill on the river bank, and have gradually encroached upon the bed of the river so as to "make" a piece of ground extending outward between one and two hundred feet, with a width corresponding to the front of their lot; that they have obstructed the channel of the river in so doing, and have erected buildings on the ground thus made, thereby creating and maintaining a nuisance.

For years past the citizens of Allegheny have been complaining of this obstruction, because the bank made by the deposits of "slag" causes the water, especially when the river is high, to flow over against the Allegheny side and injure the wharfage on that side. They also complain that the obstruction narrows the channel, interferes with navigation, and is prejudicial to the rights of the public, who have a common interest in this great natural highway. The Councils of Allegheny have frequently discussed this matter, and have passed resolutions instructing their solicitor to institute legal proceedings against the Messrs. Zug. This prosecution, we believe, had its origin in some such action. Mr. Rogers, City Solicitor of Allegheny, and Mr. Woods, appear for the prosecution, and Messrs. Marshall and Acheson for the defense.

Mr. Joseph Irwin was the first witness called, and he was examined in regard to the high and low water lines, as they existed some thirty years ago, at the point where the mill now stands; and also in regard to the encroachments upon the river bed.

The Court then adjourned until this morning.

Loafers on Fifth Avenue.—The attention of the Mayor is called to the fact that pedestrians are continually annoyed by loafers, who block up the sidewalks and indulge in insulting and obscene language, on Fifth avenue between Grant and Wylie streets. By giving the above locality attention, the Mayor and Chief of Police will confer a favor on the citizens residing in that vicinity.

ALLEGHENY.

Domestic Infelicity.—The peace and quiet which has so long reigned in the Siegrist family was suddedly disturbed on yesterday by Lewis Siegrist taking the liberty to strike his wife Sarah. To whom should she go for redress but to Alderman Bolster, who now has the case in his hands.

Approaching Completion.—The handsome new Masonic Temple, now in course of erection on the corner of Madison avenue and Washington street, is rapidly approaching completion. The plastering will be completed in about a week, when a large force of carpenters will be employed in putting up the finish. The building, it is expected, will be ready for occupancy about the first of December.

Severe Accident.—A young man named Tutle, residing on Franklin street, Fifth ward, met with a severe accident last evening, about seven o'clock. At the time of the accident he attempted to jump on to a passenger train at the Franklin street crossing, when he slipped and fell violently to the ground, receiving severe injuries on his breast and head. The unfortunate man was conveyed to his home, when medical aid was summoned. The injuries, it is thought, will not result fatally.

German Patriotic Aid Society.

The German ladies of Allegheny have concluded to give a concert at the Rink on the 31st of October, for the benefit of the German Patriotic Aid Society, and when we remember that there is a high degree of musical taste and culture among our German citizens, and a patriotism which moves them to liberality whenever occasion demands it, we may rest assured that the concert will not only be worthy the reputation of our German musicians, but a grand pecuniary success, worthy the cause for which it has been projected. The programme will be announced in a few days.

Meetings This Evening.

The Allegheny Board of Control will hold an adjourned meeting this evening in the Common Council Chamber, City Building.

The next regular meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Association will be held in their hall over the Third National Bank, Wood street, at half-past seven o'clock, this evening. Addresses by M. Hindman, A. M., Miss Smith and Miss Crane. The public are cordially invited to attend.

An adjourned meeting of Birmingham Council will be held this evening.

A Postmaster Victimized.

Mr. Johnson, Postmaster at Beaver Falls, having business in this city, came up on the train on Tuesday night, and stopped at Lightcap's tavern, corner of Federal and Robinson streets. He was assigned to a room in which there were two other lodgers, and the clerk told him not to lock the door. He left the door unlocked, went to bed, and fell asleep. Waking up, he found the men in, and slept until morning. When daylight dawned his room-mates were not in, and his pocket book, containing $130 was not in. The larks had gone, and with them postmaster Johnson's pocket book had disappeared. They left a trunk containing some dirty shirts, a bottle of chloroform, and a chisel, which led Mr. Johnson to believe they were thieves, and that they had managed to get possession of his pocket book.

Result of Intemperance.

A farmer, who declined to give his name, stated to the Mayor yesterday morning that he had been robbed the previous night of a gold watch valued at eighty dollars, and one hundred and fifty dollars in money. He could give no information as to where he had been, or at what time the robbery had been committed. He stated that he had been in Pittsburgh and had visited this city early in the evening, in company with two men whose names he did not know. He had called at several saloons and obtained drinks, and finally laid himself down on the pavement on Federal street and went to sleep. He awoke at an early hour in the morning, when he discovered that his watch and money were missing. It is altogether probable that he will be compelled to return home without his valuables, and will likely long remember his experience of the result of his spree in the city.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Mayor Callow.]

DISORDERLY CASES.

A man named G. McIntosh, was charged on yesterday before the Mayor with disorderly conduct, James Palton, prosecutor, who alleged that the defendant called him all kinds of abusive names. The accused was arrested, and in default of a fine was committed to jail a period of ten days. A similar information was preferred by Elizabeth Steinagle, against her husband Philip Steinagle, when a warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Sadie Williams, residing on Peach alley, and Ellen Dougherty and Mollie McCleary, residents of West alley, were arrested yesterday afternoon on charges of disorderly conduct preferred by William Summerville. They will have a hearing this morning.

[Before Alderman Bolster.]

A LONG DELAYED INFORMATION.

A little over two years ago a carpenter named Joseph Klein had a lot of tools, to the value of six dollars, stolen out of the shop in which he was employed. A few days ago a carpenter employed in the same shop purchased some tools from John Heibling, when Klein at once recognized them as those that were stolen from him at the time above stated. He therefore preferred a charge of larceny before the above magistrate against Heibling, when a warrant was issued.

[Before Alderman Eggers.]

STRUCK HER CHILD.

Johanna Segmiller alleged, before the above named magistrate, yesterday, that Charles Mracket abused her daughter. The accused will have an opportunity to explain the cause of his singular conduct.

[Before Alderman Bowden.]

PETTY CASES.

As a man named Wm. Boyd was walking along Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, on Monday night, he was attacked and knocked down, and abused in a shameful manner. Yesterday he appeared before Alderman Bowden and made information against George Hall, accusing him of the outrage.

A similar information was preferred against John Niebauer on oath of John Johnson. It appears that both parties were in a saloon, in the Fifth ward, Pittsburgh, when a difficulty occurred, and, as was alleged, the accused struck and abused him. Warrants were issued in each case.

[Before Alderman Arent.]

Patrick Cunningham is one of the employees now at work in the construction of a sewer in the Seventh Ward, and it appears is not on the most favorable terms with some of the residents on the line of the said sewer. Mary A. McKnowlty yesterday appeared before Alderman Arent, and stated that Patrick came to his work the other day drunk, and acted in a disorderly manner in front of her residence, and when she interfered, he slapped her in the face. A warrant has been issued.

SOUTH SIDE.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Justice Helsel, of East Birmingham.]

AN ABUSIVE HUSBAND.

Ann Keefer charged Frank Keefer, her husband, with assault and battery, alleging that while drunk he choked her and caused a discoloring of the skin on her neck. She also alleges that he is an habitual drunkard and will not maintain her. Warrant issued.

[Before Justice Salisbury, of Birmingham.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Thomas Moore lodged complaint against Lewis Poppy for assault and battery. The prosecutor was about chastising his boy when Poppy came up and struck him. A warrant was issued.

[Before Justice Krehan, of Birmingham.]

FINED.

Officer John Eichelong arrested Andrew Mullen for disorderly conduct. He had a hearing and was fined five dollars and cost's.

[Before Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh.]

CROSS SUITS.

Dinah Jane Pritchard charged Ann Pritchard and Margaret Alcock with disorderly conduct, alleging that they visited her domicil in Ormsby borough and called her vile names. Warrants issued.

The same prosecutrix made information against Reese Pritchard, her husband, for assault and battery, alleging that he struck her on the head and kicked her in the abdomen. A warrant was issued.

Public Amusements.

Opera House.—Not for years past have our play-goers had such a rare intellectual treat served up to them as that presented this week by Mr. J. S. Clarke, the sterling comedian. And that our citizens appreciate true artistic merit is fully proven by the audiences who have visited the Opera House during Mr. Clarke's engagement. He has appeared thus far in widely different lines of comedy, and in all has given the most perfect satisfaction. As Jeremiah Beetle, in Tom Taylor's fine comedy of "Babes in the Wood," and as Babington Jones, in Brougham's comedy of "Among the Breakers," he had last evening an enthusiastic reception. That our readers may have some idea of the estimation in which Mr. Clarke is held in other cities, we give below an extract from the St. Louis Republican of September 11:

"Mr. Clarke is recognized by our play goers as a sterling comedian, who depends on strictly legitimate effects. None of his portraitures are overdrawn, which is an exceedingly rare merit in comedy. The temptation to burlesque is always so great in the way of the actor, under the encouragement of the audience, that it requires a real love and reverence for art in any artist to resist it. It is sufficient to say Mr. Clarke is always true to his convictions of propriety and taste, and cannot be seduced into buffoonry. Such fidelity never fails to be rewarded by the applause of the judicious, as an exemplification of which we point to the so far successful engagement of Mr. Clarke. The performances have been characterized by uniform excellence and rarity, and during the coming week a succession of attractions, with Mr. Clarke as the principal feature will be offered to the patrons of the house. We predict that the audiences will continue to increase in numbers, and heighten in enthusiasm until the close of the present engagement."

To-night "Babes in the Woods" and "Among the Breakers" will be repeated. As Mr. Clarke's engagement closes on Saturday evening, we advise all to go and see him.

Opening of Mercantile Library Hall.—The Pittsburgh Cantata Society, embracing the best musical talent of the city, has consented to assist at the opening of Mercantile Library Hall, and will give a grand concert on Monday and Tuesday evenings, when programes of rare excellence will be offered. On Monday evening, the performances will be conducted by Messrs. Paul Zimmerman, Wm. B. Edwards, Dr. J. G. McCandless, Miss Emma Morganstern, Miss Mary Dihm, Miss M. A. Woodward, Miss Annie Houston, Mrs. C. C. Mellor, Miss Mary Scott, Mrs. Kate Northam, Mrs. J. Benswanger, Mr. Richard E. Breed, and the Society. The programme embraces selections from Mendelssohn, Benedict, Mattel, Torry, Massett, Verdi, Donizetti, Rossini, Meyerbeer, Abt, and other favorite authors.

Trimble's Varieties.—The attractions to be offered here to-night are immense, and if possible to get the people in, the audience will be larger than on last night. The Maffit and Bartholomew Pantomime Combination, experts in their line and surpassingly funny, reinforce the Zanfretta Pantomimic Troupe, who have won great popularity here this week and "Old Nanny Grumps, or Harlequin and the Good Fairy" will be given in tip-top style. The olio is especially attractive. The tightrope walking across Penn street, between 7 and 8 o'clock this evening, will attract a crowd.

Academy of Music.—Manager Beamer's treasury laughs at the crowds of ladies and gentlemen that nightly fill his pretty theater. The "Fall of Sedan" is gaining popularity. The other features of the entertainment are enthusiastically encored, especially the somersaults in mid-air of the Child Wonder, La Petite Zoe. The Heath Zouaves, of Allegheny, have a benefit to-morrow night in the military drama, and expect their friends.

Song of One-Hundred Million American and European Housekeepers.

Blessings be upon inventors,
  On them fadeless laurels twined,
Here when'er for mortal welfare,
  Use and beauty are combined.

For all sacred tidy households,
  They already perfect glow,
O'er all articles yet offered,
  Is the tried Sapolio.

We, one million of housekeepers,
  Who from frauds have suffered long,
To the sons of Enoch Morgan,
  Gratefully lift up this song.

They the blessing have afforded,
  Unto this, to every clime,
And in cleaning and polishing,
  Now saved is work, expense and time.

Saved? almost annihilated,
  Oh, what joy to see thus shine,
Without tedious soap-labor,
  Everything round the household shrine.

O, what cleanliness, what splendor,
  Given to knives, tin, iron wares,
Dishes, windows, wood, paint, tables,
  Copper, brass, steel, rods on stairs.

Yes, except for our clothes washing,
  In the parlor, kitchen, hall,
We have proved, still prove Sapolio—
  Bears the medal* over all.

Nor for home alone; its mission
  In the shop it is supreme,
Implements, tools and machinery,
  Free from gum, oil, newly gleam.

Surgeons, and engravers, dentists,
  Painters bless its wondrous worth,
For hand-washing it is peerless,
  Foe to acids, ink, paint, earth.

Onward then, thou grand invention,
  In thy full tried strength sublime,
For thou art the cleaner, polisher,
  In the human needs of time.

Millions of bright households bless thee,
  Millions more will from thee glow,
Godliness, of dirt the scorner,
  Crowns as cheapest, best below,
Over all rejuvenators,
  Morgann Sons' Sapolio.

Bear in Mind.

When disease has undermined the health, and the physical system has become prostrated, a stimulant that will not only strengthen, but remove the cause, should be immediately resorted to. Mental distress is also a fruitful source of the breaking down the constitution, and the ravages of this enemy to health are truly alarming. For all such maladies Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have been found unsurpassed. By acting directly upon the digestive organs, they remove the heavy, disagreeable feeling after eating, so often complained of by persons of a delicate temperament. As soon as digestion is restored, the patient finds his strength increasing, and his general health improved.

Thousands of persons certify that it may be relied on in all cases of weakness or nervous debility attendant upon sedentary habits. The generality of Bitters are so disagreeable to the taste that they are objectionable to a weak stomach. This is not the case with Hostetter's Bitters, which will be found mild and extremely pleasant. Balsamic plants, barks and roots contribute their restorative juices to render it soothing and strengthening. Its basis is the only pure stimulant which has ever been produced, containing no fusil oil, or any other deleterious element. The most careful and skillful chemists have analyzed the Bitters, and pronounce them harmless. This is scientific testimony; but the testimony of the hundreds of thousands who have experienced the preventive and curative effects of the great vegetable tonic and alterative of modern times is still more conclusive. In fever and ague, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous complaints, chronic complaints and general debility it is as nearly infallible as anything in this fallible world can be.
